"IKE" MEETS WITH MILITARY—Army Secretary Stevens and Chief of Staff, General Mathew Ridgway meet with President Eisenhower at the Summer White House offices, Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado. They discussed Army manpower problems.

President's Health Excellent; Snyder

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower's annual physical checkup indicates he is "maintaining an excellent state of health," his personal physician reported Wednesday.

The physician, Maj. Howard M. Snyder, said in a statement issued at the chief executive's vacation headquarters that all the laboratory tests made during the checkup "were within the normal range."

Snyder provided no details and the Denver White House said there would be no elaboration on the doctor's terse statement.

It said only that the tests were "within normal range" and that "all observations indicate the President is maintaining an excellent state of health."

Eisenhower who will be 64 Oct. 14, entered Fitzsimons Army Hospital here on Sept. 6 and remained overnight for his annual examination.

He said immediately after the checkup that he felt fine and an aide announced that a preliminary report on the examination was "very favorable."

The President got in nine holes of golf Wednesday, then took time out before starting his second nine at Cherry Hills Country Club to watch the final innings of the World Series.

Before he went to Cherry Hills the President:

1. Issued a statement declaring "No institution is more necessary to our way of life than a free press." The statement marked the start of National Newspaper Week Friday.

2. Announced that "substantially all" of the nation's railroads have agreed to a temporary 50 per cent cut in freight rates on shipment of hay into 15 drought states in the Midwest and Southeast. The reduction, requested by the President, will go into effect about Friday and expire Dec. 15.

3. Picked Col. Andrew J. Goodpaster, 39, to be his new liaison man with the Pentagon in Washington and secretary of the White House staff. Goodpaster, now U.S. Army district engineer with headquarters in San Francisco, succeeds Brig. Gen. Paul T. (Pete) Carroll, who died 10 days ago after a heart attack. Goodpaster once served on Eisenhower's North Atlantic Treaty Organization staff in Paris.

4. Sent a message of "deepest sympathy" to the widow of Sen. Pat McCarran, Nevada Democrat, who died in Reno Tuesday night.

5. Issued an executive order giving the House Government Operations Committee access to income tax returns for the year 1953. The committee already had access to returns for earlier years in its investigative work.

According to estimates, there are somewhat more than half a million persons in the United States with cerebral palsy.

Probers Ask AEC Hold Up Contract To Dixon-Yates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators Wednesday asked the Atomic Energy Commission for the second time to hold up the politically explosive Dixon-Yates power contract until they complete a widening probe of it.

Sens. Langer (R-ND) and Kefauver (D-Tenn), making the request for the Senate Monopoly subcommittee, also called for additional testimony from AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss and Budget Director Rowland Hughes.

Negotiations ordered by President Eisenhower are under way, but still incomplete, between AEC and the Dixon-Yates group of two Southern utility companies for a new 107 million dollar steam plant to serve Memphis, Tenn. over the lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Langer, chairman of both the subcommittee and its parent Judiciary Committee, said hearings probably would continue throughout the week.

He and Kefauver, the only two members of the five-man subcommittee present Wednesday, decided to broaden the probe over the protests of Sen. Butler (R-Md) who is attending the hearing as a "guest." Butler, frankly representing the administration, is a member of the full Judiciary Committee.

Sen. Douglas Raps New Tax Law

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas said Wednesday night the new tax bill "won't help the small business man any more than it will the average family."

Speaking at meetings, in St. Clair and Madison counties, the Democrat incumbent seeking re-election said:

"The big corporations get the lion's share of the tax cuts, seven-eights of the total. Small business is left holding the bag just like the professions and those employed by others."

Calling attention to stock dividend tax concessions in the new bill, Douglas said:

"The small businessman is almost never incorporated and has virtually all his capital tied up in the assets of his business—inventory, fixtures and the like. He has little surplus money floating around to invest in stocks. Thus he gets nothing from special tax cuts on dividend income."

Douglas said the "big bonanza" on the new depreciation features of the bill "goes to the large corporations who spend millions on plant and equipment." The small business man, he said, gets only a few minor tax concessions out of the bill.

NATO'S ECONOMY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gold and dollar reserves of the European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization rose above 10 billion dollars in September, Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen said Wednesday.

"All of the NATO countries and Germany are on their own feet in the economic sense," the foreign aid chief told a news confernce.

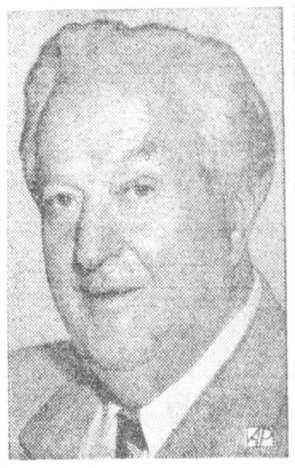

East-West trade with the Soviet bloc pulled about 250 million dollars of gold into the West's reserves last year, Stassen said.

Death Stills Powerful Voice Of McCarran

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The death of 78-year-old Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada stills one of the most powerful and aggressive voices in the United States Senate.

McCarran represented the smallest state, in population, in the union. But his long years of seniority as a Democrat in the Senate and his iron determination in pushing causes in which he believed eventually led him to a pinnacle of power in Washington.

PAT McCARRAN

He built up what was considered the biggest patronage organization in the Senate through his key committee posts.

He pushed through to enactment highly controversial legislation despite the veto of former President Truman.

He was reputed to have strong influence in important government departments, particularly the Justice Department, and to a lesser extent the State Department.

At times he even conducted his own negotiations with officials of foreign governments on projects in which he was interested.

Much of McCarran's power stemmed from his long chairmanship of the Judiciary Committee, which handles more than half of all the legislation coming before the Senate. A big share of this consists of private relief bills, but these often are of more concern to individual senators than major measures.

The committee also passes on presidential appointments of key officials in the Justice Department, of all federal judges, including Supreme Court justices, and of U.S. attorneys and marshals.

McCarran enlarged the scope of the committee in 1951 by setting up an Internal Security subcommittee, becoming its first chairman and launching numerous widely publized investigations of subversion.

McCarran lost the Judiciary Committee chairmanship in 1953 after the Republicans won control of Congress. But he remained the senior Democrat on the committee and a highly influential member, since he had many close friends and supporters among the Republicans.

McCarran testified before a Senate committee this year about direct negotiations which he handled with Spanish government officials concerning air bases the United States was planning to build in Spain. He told of transatlantic telephone conversations with officials in Madrid.

He long had been an ardent advocate of aid to Spain, even when that country was not highly regarded by the American government because of its sympathy with Hitler in World War II.

McCarran was first elected to the Senate in 1932. But as the years went on the Nevadan diverged more and more from the Democratic administrations; in recent years he voted with the Republicans often on key issues.

U.S. Should Sever Relations With Soviet: Van Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet testified Wednesday he believes Chinese Communists must have been informed before they entered the Korean War that their home bases would be immune from attack.

Van Fleet, who succeeded Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, now Army chief of staff, as commander of the 8th Army in Korea, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee his guess was that Red China would get such assurance "through some embassy source in Peiping."

He said he believes the United States should break off diplomatic relations with Russia "as a major dramatic step to prevent World War II."

"I believe it would be a good move short of war," he testified. He predicted it would create unrest behind the Iron Curtain—"A situation in Russia that their people would want to know why we severed."

Van Fleet also said the United States should quit the United Nations if Red China is seated.

The general now living in Auburndale, Fla. reiterated under questioning criticisms he previously has voiced against the way in which the Korean War was waged by United Nations forces.

Judge Defers Action On School Segregation Case

CINCINNATI (AP)— U. S. Dist. Judge John H. Druffel declined Wednesday to rule immediately in a case in which the Hillsboro, Ohio, School Board is accused of segregation of Negro elementary school pupils.

Judge Druffel declared any decision he would make might turn out to be contrary to a policy yet to be determined by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The judge continued the case until two weeks after the Supreme Court makes its final entry on how its ban on school segregation, given several months ago, shall be put into effect.

The case here, believed to be the first of its kind in a Northern state, involved a petition for an injunction to restrain the Hillsboro School Board from enforcing a school city rezoning which would send most Negro pupils to the all-Negro Lincoln School.

Under the rezoning a few Negro pupils now attend the former all-white Webster and Washington schools.

Jimmie Bremmer's Mutilated Body Found; Hold Salesman

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) — The month-long search for 8-year-old Jimmie Bremmer came to a grim end Wednesday when his mutilated body was found in a pasture only four miles from the lad's home.

Jimmie's distraught mother confirmed police identification when she was shown a belt and pair of tennis shoes removed from the body after its discovery.

"That's Jimmie's," she wept.

Three highway maintenance men found the body while putting up snow fencing along a little-traveled country road about two miles northwest of Sioux City.

Discovery of the body came a day after thousands of persons in this area turned out for a mass search for Jimmie. The mass hunt was staged after police circulars mailed throughout the nation failed to yield any reports of the missing boy.

Russell White, assistant Sioux City police chief, said holes in the skull indicated the boy's attacker may have used a heavy instrument to bludgeon him to death.

At nearby Cherokee, meantime, it was disclosed that Sioux City police had taken renewed custody of an itinerant salesman previously questioned at length in the case.

The salesman, described by Police Chief James O'Keefe as "psychotic as well as homosexual," has admitted talking to the boy the night he disappeared but steadfastly denies any knowledge of Jimmie's fate.

After days of questioning in Sioux City he entered the State Mental Health Institute at Cherokee as a voluntary patient to undergo psychiatric treatment.

Institute officials said a psychiatrist and two police officers left Cherokee Wednesday afternoon to take the patient to the scene where Jimmie's body was found and observe his reactions. The salesman's identity has not been disclosed.

Dr. Elsie Field Still Believes Brother Lives

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Dr. Elsie Field of Urbana, Ill., said Wednesday night she still believes her brother Noel, a former U.S. State Department employee, and his wife Herta are alive. They have been missing behind the Iron Curtain for five years.

Jozek Swiatlo, former secret police leader in Communist Poland who fled to the West, said in Washington he believes Field and his wife are dead. He said he had interviewed the couple in Hungary in 1949 but was denied access to them a year later and was led to believe they were dead.

Swiatlo said he believes Hermann Field, Noel's brother who also disappeared mysteriously in 1949, is alive in Warsaw.

Informed of Swiatlo's statement, Dr. Field said:

"I am not going to give up. I am going to believe Noel and Herta are in prison in Russia."

She pointed out Noel had been reported seen in Prague in 1951, a year after Swiatlo's inquiries in Budapest regarding him.

France, U.S. Agree On Future Policy In Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and France announced agreement late Wednesday on a broad new plan to save Indochina from further Communist conquest. American officials said it called for more than 700 million dollars annually in U. S. aid.

The French agreed they would keep military forces in southern Viet Nam for the time being, withdrawing troops from their 10 divisions only gradually—as native forces are built up to fill the gap.

The agreement was announced in general terms in a joint communique by France and the United States, capping three days of conferences here. American officials said representatives of the three Indochinese states — Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia—had been consulted and were "very much pleased" with the new arrangements.

Although details of the plan are yet to be worked out, the significance of it is that American officials apparently have found a new conviction that chances are good that further Communist conquest in Indochina can be blocked, and they are willing to pour more millions of American money into the effort.

U. Of I. Trustees Will Ask Increase In Biennial Budget

CHICAGO (AP) — Trustees of the University of Illinois voted Wednesday to ask the 1955 Legislature for a $10,600,000 increase in the university's biennial budget.

Of the total boost sought, $6,400,000 is wanted to hike faculty salaries 10 per cent. The other $4,200,000 is sought to raise salaries of non-academic employes.

The vote came after Lloyd Morey, university president, told the board Illinois' salary scales had not kept pace with those of other Big Ten schools.

The board also authorized contracts for construction of a 2½ million dollar home economics building on the Champaign campus.

Board Chairman H. B. Megran of Harvard reported that an "exhaustive search" is continuing for a university president to succeed the retiring Morey next year.

NEW LONG RANGE MISSILE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Stevens announced Wednesday the Army plans to start "modest production" of a new long - range ground - to - ground missile called the "Redstone."

The missile was developed by the same German scientists who produced the V2 rocket of World War II. It is named for Redstone arsenal, the Alabama installation where the Army Ordnance Corps is perfecting the highly classified weapon.

Stevens said at a news conference limited production will begin under an $855,000 contract to the Chrysler Corp.

Rice supplies the major food requirements for more than one-half of the world's population.

Jenner Raps Tactics Of Watkin's Inquiry

By WILMOT HERCHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, disclosed Wednesday he intends to review certain phases of the inquiry which resulted in a recommendation that Sen. McCarthy be censured for some of his offficial conduct.

Jenner said in an interview that Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), head of the special Senate group which passed judgment on McCarthy, would be called before the Rules Committee to explain, among other things, why he "conducted a one-man hearing" at one point of the probe.

WILLIAM E. JENNER

Watkins will also be asked about four changes the special committee proposed be made in the rules for conducting Senate Investigations, Jenner said.

After word of this latest move reached Watkins, he told newsmen he would have nothing to say about it for the time being.

Jenner, a good friend of McCarthy, says "many words will be spoken" after the Senate convenes Nov. 8 to decide whether the Wisconsin Republican merits an official and public rebuke.

The special committee was made up of three Republicans and three Democrats.

Jenner's reference to a "one-man hearing" concerns a closed door hearing at which Watkins questioned Charles L. Watkins, Senate parliamentarian and no relative of the Utah senator, about the validity of a Senate Elections subcommittee which investigaged McCarthy's finances in 1951-52.

One of the grounds advanced by the Watkins committee for censuring McCarthy was that he treated the subcommittee contemptuously. Defending himself, the Wisconsin senator challenged the legal status of the subcommittee.

Watkins' group recommended that when Congress convenes again in January four changes be made in the rules governing Senate investigations. The changes, one of which would restrict the practice of holding committee meetings with only one member present, are designed to preserve the bipartisan nature of Senate committees and give better protection to the rights of witnesses.

Since the Rules Committee is conducting an extensive investigation of its own along this line, Jenner said, he wanted to interrogate Watkins about the proposed changes. He said he thought the Senate would prefer to act on the report of his committee rather than the recommendations submitted by the Watkins group.

American farmers and farm cooperatives are using more credit this year than in any year since 1942.

Army To Increase Combat Divisions In Next Two Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced Wednesday it will increase the number of its combat-equipped divisions to 24 during the next two years.

The five additional divisions will be composed of present training divisions which will be given the structrual organization, equipment and designation of combat divisions—but which will not be at anything like full combat manpower strength.

The plan, the Army said, will entail no increase in over-all manpower strength.

The reshuffling also will include the formation from several regiments of two divisions to replace two Army divisions which are being returned to state National Guards. The net result of this, however, will be to leave the Army at its present 19 combat division strength.

The program was disclosed at a news conference held by Army Secretary Robert Stevens, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the chief of staff, and other topranking Army officers and civilian officials.

Field Attempted Suicide, Former Polish Jailer Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hermann Field, an American whose secret arrest in Red Poland five years ago was disclosed only Tuesday, once tried to kill himself in his prison cell near Warsaw and twice went on hunger strikes, his former jailer reported Wednesday.

Jozef Swiatlo, a top official of the Polish secret police until he fled 10 months ago, also expressed the belief that Hermann's brother Noel and Noel's wife Herta, arrested in Hungary in 1949, are dead.

Nevertheless, the State Department said notes have been sent to Hungary demanding release of Noel and Herta, and to Poland seeking freedom for Hermann. A spokesman said the department is acting on the assumption all three still are alive.

Swiatlo told newsmen that Hermann Field is—or was—under a virtual "death sentence." He said that Poland's top Red leaders told a secret police official early in 1953 that "Hermann Field lives too long." But he added that Field was still alive nearly a year later when Swiatlo fled Poland in December, 1953.

Swiatlo met Wednesday with newsmen who had requested to see him again following Tuesday's news conference.

Carey Threatened To Get Job Fired Welfare Woman Claims

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A discharged Bureau County welfare superintendent testified Wednesday in a Merit System Council hearing that Joseph D. Carey, administrative assistant to Gov. Stratton, threatened to get her job.

The appeal of Mrs. Dorothy O. Andrews, 59, of Princeton, for restoration to her $329 a month post was taken under advisement by the council. Hearing officer Anthony Manuele of Springfield said decisions are usually returned in about a month.

Mrs. Andrews was fired from her job June 11 on grounds she was negligent and inefficient in the performance of her duties. She had held the job since 1949.

She testified that Carey, whose home is in Seatonville, Bureau County, was "very disagreeable" during a conversation with her.

"He told me they had someone else for my job and were going to get me out of it," she related.

Carey could not be reached for comment.

County welfare superintendents are county agents of the Illinois Public Aid Commission. The superintendents, who are in charge of visitors who deal directly with aid applicants, are selected by merit system examination.

The principal witness against Mrs. Andrews was her supervisor since December 1952, Miss Crystal Cranston of Kewanee.

Mrs. Andrews was promoted to superintendent from the job of visitor which she took in 1944.

She was accused in a bill of particulars by Atty. Gen. Latham Castle of ignorance of commission policies and procedures, of absenteeism which was not recorded and of failure to exercise her supervisory authority.

Miss Cranston said she evaluated Mrs. Andrews' work at the end of 1953, found it "questionable" and put her on probation for three months.

Agreement On German Rearming Expected

LONDON (AP)—The United States and Britain, with a threat and a promise, Wednesday night brought jittery France near a long sought agreement to rearm West Germany in defense against Communist attack.

First Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the nine-nation conference discussing the problem that American troops may have to be pulled out of Europe if France rejects plans to line up German land, air and sea forces within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Next Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden announced a British offer to keep four divisions, plus a tactical air force, on the European mainland indefinitely provided the conference agreed on bringing a re-armed Germany into NATO.

The British-American broadside appeared carefully timed to assure the success of the conference, which had been called to figure out ways of freeing West Germany and rearming her as a full and equal 15th member of NATO.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, as soon as the nine foreign ministers ended their session, confidently told newsmen he thought the conference would end in success Thursday night.

And a high American source indicated Dulles has ordered his plane to be ready to fly him back to Washington Sunday.

Adenauer, 78, told the newsmen: "I think we can take a deep breath if the rest of the conference takes its expected course."

That course was unofficially indicated by officials attending the talks:

FOLO — DULLES, EDEN .. .. ..

1. The United States, Britain and France probably will announce their intention to end the occupation of West Germany, restoring to the federal republic virtually full control over its internal and external affairs. The Germans in turn will issue a counter-declaration offering to join NATO and a new seven-nation European alliance—where they will be allowed to rearm within clearly marked limits.

2. The Brussels alliance of 1948—a 50-year British-French-Belgian-Dutch-Luxembourg pact against aggression—will be revised to admit West Germany and Italy, both enemies of the Allies in World War II. Experts of the seven nations will be assigned to write a protocol—or supplement—to the treaty giving the alliance some powers to control the arms and armies of its continental members.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France wanted a seven-power European armaments authority to form an arms pool and guard against any runaway German rearmament. The specter of a new German aggression frightens France, thrice invaded in the last 83 years.

Editorial Comment

A SUB FOR EDC

It is good news that the series of hurried "round robin" meetings involving Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Eden, German Chancellor Adenauer and others has resulted in a call for a nine-power conference to find a way to bring West Germany into the Atlantic alliance.

The invitations go to the United States, Canada, Britain, and the six nations originally marked for inclusion in the now defunct EDC plan — West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, and Luxembourg.

In addition to this conference, the 14 members of NATO will meet around mid-October to study the matter of German rearmament.

The urgency in the situation stems from realization that pro-Western political forces in Germany are in shaky condition as result of French rejection of EDC. Adenauer had built his European policy on that defensive plan.

There is no tendency any more to show special deference to France in working out a suitable EDC substitute. The initiative has passed to other hands, if indeed it can be said "initiative" ever really rested with the French.

On the other hand, Dulles, Eden and Adenauer recognize the value of having French agreement on some new plan if it can be gained without acceptance of crippling amendments.

Diplomatic sources say France has agreed in principle to linking Germany with NATO. If that is so, the impending London conference could get down to practical ways of developing that alliance.

The French rebuffed EDC, a plan that would have placed German armed units under international control. France felt the control would be insufficient to check a resurgent Germany.

Presumably a Germany allied with NATO would have an independent national army. Offhand, this sounds like the thing the French fear most. But evidently France feels that such an army tied to NATO, with such powerful nations as Britain and America in formal association, would be under somewhat better control despite its "independence."

Furthermore, the French are said to be demanding guarantees that British and U. S. troops stay indefinitely on the European continent, and that German rearmament be kept within sane bounds.

How far the other nations will now be willing to go in satisfying reported French conditions cannot be guessed. But it appears definite that the West is determined to develop speedily an effective plan for drawing Germany closer.

The price of failure, or even delay, could be to see Germany swing toward the Soviet orbit—at least to the point of adopting a neutrality which would only benefit the Russians.

The World Today

By ED CREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nobody is going out on any limbs with rosy predictions, but there's some hope something solid may come out of the London conference.

Something more, that is, than paper scenery to hide the wreckage of the European Defense Community.

The hope is that the nine-power conference which opened Tuesday, will point the way to this: A West European defense setup with a free West Germany included-a setup that looks workable enough to win American backing in the form of weapons, money and men.

Today, of course, the United States is providing such support. But there has been a lot of talk that unless the Western European nations get together soon on a unified defense setup including West Germany, this country may pull back to bases in Britain and Spain.

On the other hand, there is hope in Western Europe that the United State will put a lot of weight—perhaps as much as that promised to the stillborn EDC—behind any defense plan meeting American approval.

To this extent—though there are plenty of other factors involved—the United States delegation is wielding a good deal of influence on the London talks without saying much.

Secretary of State Dulles announced position is that the United States is sitting in to be "helpful if our help is wanted." In other words: Run your own show, fellows. But you know what we can do for you.

And Dulles also says: "We cannot afford to gamble our safety and our survival on arrangements and programs that have no reasonable prospect of providing genuine security." That can be put into simpler English, too: If we don't like it, we're not going to buy it.

Maybe because of the American position, maybe not. London reports indicate the European countries are showing more zeal for building a better defense system than they have in some time.

The way looks pretty clear for this country, France and Britain to agree on a way to restore Germany's sovereignty. Then comes the big hurdle: How to use German troops in the common defense?

Aviation Circles Await Ike's Ruling on New Line

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Some unfortunate White House assistant this summer got the staggering chore of boiling down 8594 pages of information into the one-page summary which President Eisenhower insists on getting.

That was the size of the record which the Civil Aeronautics Board turned over to Ike on the application of Seaboard & Western Airlines for a regular certificate to fly cargo back and forth to Europe.

CAB listened to the arguments for seven years, during which time there were 70 full days of formal hearings, before deciding this summer by a vote of 3-2 that Seaboard should get its certificate. Because overseas flying could involve foreign policy the President has final approval. While CAB was considering the case heat was generating over it because the old question was raised of whether Uncle Sam was maintaining a "monopoly" or reviving the "chosen instrument" idea for its international airlines.

Since there has been a long delay in getting a decision from the White House the heat over it in aviation circles has gotten more intense.

Maybe The Delay in the White House action is because the assistant assigned to make the summary has insisted on reading the whole CAB transcript. Actually he doesn't have to because the basic issues involved can be set down for the President rather quickly and briefly.

Opposition to the granting of the certificate has come from Pan American and Trans World airlines. It's the favorite pitch in the airline business to make Pan-Am the whipping boy for all troubles and to denounce its "powerful lobby." But Pan-Am and TWA in this case have made a straightforward, understandable argument against the Seaboard application.

They're obviously interested parties. Pan-Am and TWA carry both passengers and freight between the U.S. and Europe and operate all-freight schedules. It's not a monopoly. So why should Uncle Sam create a third freight line to compete with them? That's their point.

The Seaboard answer to that question obviously convinced CAB. Since after the war Seaboard has built an impressive fleet of giant cargo planes and is now getting delivery on four new allcargo Super Constellations. Their volume of business was in the neighborhood of $13 million last year. The firm has never gotten a subsidy from Uncle Sam but it has flown a lot of goods under government contract.

The fact that they have created this going enterprise without subsidy is one of the accomplishments the firm brags about most. It also has an excellent safety record.

Just about any product you can name is carried by Seaboard. To Europe there is a steady flow of such things as clothing, office machines and appliances. The flights to New York from points in Europe carry textiles and a hundred other items.

Shippers find air freight advantageous for several reasons. Insurance is lower because less handling is involved and consequently there is less chance of damage. Because of the speed of delivery it means less merchandise in the pipeline and less inventory generally for a firm.

The speed of flying also permits a seller to reach special seasonal markets in a hurry, too.

Seaboard Officials believe that the potential air freight business between Europe and the U. S. is practically unlimited and untapped at this point. They believe that they can carry profitably anything the boats can except the bulk cargoes like grain and petroleum and heavy machinery.

Seaboard's big complaint in all of the trouble they have had to date is that they have never really had a chance to develop this business the way they would like to. They have been operating on a nebulous kind of letter of approval from CAB which could be withdrawn anytime and wreck their enterprise.

It's this unstable nature of their permit to operate which has held back greater expansion, they claim. If they get a permanent certificate they will be able to attract more investors and feel free to make an all-out effort to exploit the air traffic business.

In an open letter to the President Seaboard has appealed to him to uphold "free enterprise" and Since after the war Seaboard has grant them their certificate.

Red and Green Cabbage Blend Into Colorful Salad

PANAMINT CABBAGE SALAD of green and red cabbage is as tasty as it is colorful

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a colorful crisp salad. We learned about it in Southern California where the Panamint Range with its startling colors suggested the idea of blending soft green cabbage, gaudy red cabbage, and deep green Western pascal celery and golden carrots.

Panamint Cabbage Salad
(Makes 6 servings)

Two cups shredded green cabbage, 1 cup shredded red cabbage, 1 cup sliced celery, 1 cup shredded carrots, creamy French dressing.

Combine and toss in large salad bowl. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Creamy French Dressing

One small clove garlic, ½ teaspoons salt, fresh ground pepper, 2-3 cup salad oil, 1-3 cup wine vinegar, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, 1-3 cup heavy cream.

If you are the owner of a mortar and pestle this is the place to use it. Rub the garlic, salt and pepper in the mortar. Continue rubbing until garlic is completely blended with salt and pepper. Or—cut garlic into pieces on a chopping board and sprinkle with the salt and pepper. Mash garlic and seasonings together with the flat side of a knife blade and continue until garlic is completely blended. Combine the garlic-seasoned salt and pepper with the remaining ingredients. Allow to "ripen" for several hours before serving.

Green-Gold Carrots

Two bunches or 2 packages carrots, 2 tablespoons very finely cut green onion tops and all, or 2 tablespoons grated dry onion, butter or margarine, salt and pepper.

Scrape or pare carrots thinly. Dice or cut into slices or strips. Cook, covered, in 1 inch of boiling salted water until just tender—10 to 20 minutes. Add onion while carrots are cooking. Serve at once seasoned with butter or margarine and salt and pepper.

TOMORROW'S DINNER

Oven-broiled broiler-fryer chicken, baked potatoes, green-gold carrots, soft rolls, butter or margarine, Panamint cabbage salad, apple turnovers, cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens to a girl who smokes a pipe in public?

"Plenty," said Marie Quackenbush, an inventive young fashion consultant who has freed lady pipe smokers of the problem of where to carry their tobacco pouches. (She designed one that can be worn as a garter.)

"Any woman knows she can get attention from men by taking a dog out for a walk. But a pipe is much better than a dog. Men are fascinated by them."

Miss Quackenbush, who has been puffing her pipe openly for more than a month, is hardly a pioneer. The pipe has had a large but hidden feminine following in America for many years. The pipe industry estimates the number of secret lady pipesmokers at about 150,000, not including the corncob model addicts.

"Since last July, when pipes specifically styled for ladies were first put on the market, some 350,000 have been sold," said Bernard Gould, vice president of the Kaywoodie Co., the nation's largest pipe manufacturer.

Ladies pipes are now for sale in most of the major department stores and tobacco shops. Plans are afoot to have them peddled even by cigarette girls in night clubs.

Why is it then you see so few women smoking them in public? Are they only a passing novelty fad, as most men believe?

"I think they are here to stay," said Miss Quackenbush, cheerfully blowing a burley cloud my way across a luncheon table.

"One reason you have seen so few on the streets so far is women are bashful. They want to be sure they can handle the pipe properly in public. And then, of course, you know nobody wants to be the first couple on a dance floor.

"Another important reason is that manufacturers have been slow to develop the right clothing accessories for the pipe - smoking woman. But that is being corrected. They are bringing out a handbag with a compartment to carry a pipe. The belt industry is also working on some new belts with attachable tobacco pouches and pipe holsters."

Pipe holsters? Shades of Hopalong Cassidy!

"How about that, er, that combination garter and tobacco pouch?" I asked, purely in the interests of science. "Now, uh, just how does that work?"

"Unfortunately, I didn't wear mine today," said Miss Quackenbush, ruining a fine luncheon. "But it is worn just above the knee. You can fill your pipe from it at a restaurant table without even being noticed."

(Editor's note: Not if Boyle's there. He's always squirming under tables, looking for fallen napkins—he says.)

Manners Make Friends

If the family pup chews up some belonging of a neighbor or a guest, by all means apologize at once, but also make every effort to replace the damaged article.

Kind words soothe the spirit, but don't forget that by his destructive act your pup has, in a sense, also damaged your friend's pocketbook.

Don't Take Measles Lightly; Results Sometimes Tragic

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The opening of schools in the fall is the time when the common contagious diseases of childhood are most likely to cause trouble.

The big four are measles, mumps, chicken pox and whooping cough. They are so common among children that I have been asked frequently if it isn't best to expose small children to such infections and "get it over with." The answer (with the possible exception of chicken pox) is no.

They are not harmless and it is better to avoid them if possible, though mumps and whooping cough may be worse for grownups or the elderly than for youngsters.

• • •

MEASLES, for example, is not the simple thing many seem to feel. In many years more youngsters die from measles than from polio; it often causes serious complications such as bronchopneumonia or bronchitis; even when mild the five hundred thousand more or less who have measles each year are kept out of school or other activity for quite a long time.

The eyes, too, should be protected during the early acute phase of the disease.

THE CAUSE of measles is a virus and this tiny living organism is present in the secretions of the mouth and nose during the first few days, during which a person is "coming down" with the disease.

A sneeze or cough will carry the virus into the air where it can be breathed in by anyone else around. This makes measles especially contagious even before the skin rash appears.

It is difficult to avoid exposure once an outbreak of measles has started in a school. Exposure certainly should not be sought but if it does occur one has to consider the use of a substance known as immune globulin. If this is given to a youngster who has been exposed, at just the right time, it tends to make the disease exceedingly mild and cut down on the number of serious complications.

• • •

THE MAIN PURPOSE of this discussion of measles is to point out that the disease should not be taken as a joke and as something every child must have. Too often the disease has been considered lightly, sometimes with tragic results.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A few years ago, western actor Chill Wills was visiting on a set with Greer Garson, who remarked that she would like to appear in a picture with him.

"Shucks, Miss Garson," Chill replied, "That'd never happen. I make sagebrush pictures and you're in them carpet movies."

I've got news for Mr. Wills. Miss Garson is now off the carpets and out in the sagebrush. For her first independent picture after 15 years at MGM, she's doing "Strange Lady in Town," the story of a woman doctor who comes to a frontier town in New Mexico.

The regal redhead had just returned from a location in Tucson, where she rode horses and buckboards and sweltered in the heat—112 degrees in the shade. I asked if that didn't make her long for the carpets and drawing rooms of MGM.

"Not at all," she smiled. "The location was rugged, but I asked for a change and I got it. This is the sort of a thing I have wanted to do for a long time. I think there's a great appeal in outdoor pictures now, especially to people who are cooped up in cities. It's a kind of escape for them."

Oddly enough, the locations had to be done in Arizona.

"They looked for places in New Mexico," Miss Garson explained, "but they found that the Indian pueblos were bristling with TV aerials. The towns all looked too modern for the period — around 1870. But there was a location outside Tucson that fitted the bill."

Hawkers of Anxiety Spoil Enjoyment of a Lovely Day

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

On a lovely day last month, I sat at a window stringing beans. Through it blew wind. It was cool—and strong enough to flutter the curtains and the skirts of children playing across the street.

Suddenly my radio stopped playing music. In effect, it said to me: "A heat wave will strike this area tomorrow night. Many cases of heat prostration are expected. No relief is in sight. . . ."

Then it said, "This news is a public service."

I stopped stringing beans. I thought: "No, it is not a public service. For in this area for which you have decreed heat prostration tomorrow night live people already so hypnotized by soothsayers that they will forget that tomorrow hasn't come.

"They will forget to enjoy today. In thousands of kitchens right now, tired mothers are feeling more tired because of your public service. In their expectation of tomorrow's heat, pleasure in this cool wind is already wilting."

Parents, like other Americans, cannot expect mercy from these hawkers of anxiety. We have to stand against it.

Otherwise, like the coward, we have to die a thousand deaths a week by anticipation of attack by everything from receding gums and the morning headache to polio epidemic. It is difficult for a child to live well in the morbid atmosphere created by our acceptance of other people's dooms.

I do not approve of soothsayers, ancient or modern. For centuries, they have been rattling their guords and bones at the human race.

But I doubt whether any parents in history have ever had to put up with so wide a variety of misfortune tellers as we do. No wonder we have to rush to child psychologists when trouble strikes. All our strength has been devoured in expectation of it.

Why do we listen? Why have any people listened to wizards? Because wizards have spoken for the people's Local God. And in our country, we have a Local God. His name is Modern Science. To fill us with superstitious awe, all his temple priests have to do is emerge from their laboratories and cry, "Lo, we divine this misfortune for you!"

Whereas, the fact is these authorities have no more power to compel our futures than any poor shaman in antelope tails huddled over his animal entrails and sand whorls.

Anyway, our local diviner's magic work. The wind blew his heat wave away. Not that it matters. What does is that lots of tired mothers lost a lovely day.

Don't Believe Mate When He Tells You 'Never to Change'

When a man tells his wife he never wants her to change, he thinks he means it.

But don't ever believe it. Take him at his word and in a few years it will be a tossup as to who is more bored with you—you or your husband.

There's nothing fascinating about a woman who never changes, who sticks to the same routines year after year, holds on to old opinions, doesn't bother to experiment with the latest feminine fashions, isn't particularly interested in learning anything new, and never surprises anyone by doing the unexpected.

CHANGE ADDS SPICE TO LIVING

But while a man may hoot at his wife's silly new hat or groan because she has once again rearranged the living room furniture or speak in a superior manner about her club work or begrudge the time she makes him spend helping her fix up the house or yard, in the end he is usually proud of the things she accomplishes. And even when he isn't, he at least has to sit up and take notice of what is going on.

And there's this for a wife always to remember. Men change. They have to in order to make a living in a competitive world.

So even though they may not know it, they need for their wives to change in order to keep in step.

Young husband often say and think they want their wives to stay just as they are.

But wives with more seniority know that it's a woman's ability to keep changing that adds a little spice to daily living.

The nice thing about radio is that it's one form of entertainment that doesn't show old movies.

Victim Of Texas Holdup Comes To City, Claims Car

Still wearing red welts on his wrists and ankles, the victim of a holdup at Dallas, Texas, Sept. 15, came to Jacksonville Wednesday with Dallas county deputy sheriffs to claim his stolen automobile, while the officers took charge of two men and two women, charged with armed robbery.

The four were placed under arrest Monday night by Deputies Harold Wright and Albert Slavens on a country road northeast of Jacksonville, after a farmer reported a car had been parked there all day.

Al Bezner of Dallas, holdup victim and owner of the 1952 Chevrolet car in which the suspects were traveling, accompanied Deputies J. H. Kitching and J. W. Rowland to this city, arriving at 4 a.m. Wednesday.

"I'm sure glad they got them, and that I got my car back," Bezner said Wednesday morning at the office of Sheriff Earl Hembrough. The Dallas man showed officers the welts and abrasions on his wrists and ankles, which were bound by electric cord.

Bezner said he recognized the voice of one of the men at the time he was held up, bound, and robbed in a Dallas tavern.

The four suspects, Bob Howard, 24; Carroll Douglas Nix, 21; Zelma Darlene Chambers, 20, and Dorothy Joyce Goolsby, 19, all waived extradition from Illinois to Texas. They were turned over by Morgan county officers to the Texas deputies, who left with the prisoners Wednesday morning.

Deputy Kitching said they would return to Dallas by the way of Texarkana, Ark., and pick up guns which the men are alleged to have pawned on their way to Illinois. All four suspects are being returned to Texas on armed robbery warrants.

Bezner is driving his automobile back to Dallas.

Nergenah Rites At Beardstown

Funeral services for Edward Gerhard Nergenah were held Sept. 16 at the Northcutt funeral home in Beardstown with the Reverend Howard Tepker, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church in Beardstown, and the Reverend Marvin Matzke, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, officiating.

Mrs. Harold Kuhlman sang, "What a Friend we Have in Jesus" and "Heaven is My Home," with Miss Nora Hagener at the organ.

Pallbearers were Edward Brockhouse, Emil Brockhouse, Charles Boyd, Robert Lael, Clifford Hegener and Earl Wallace.

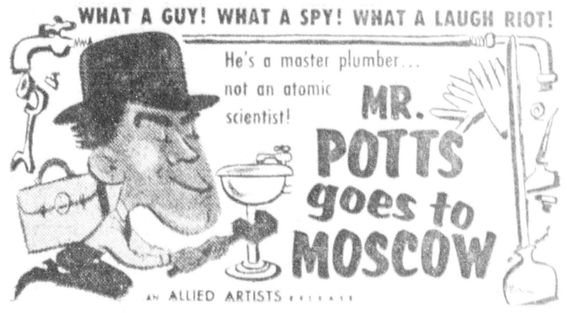

The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Edward Brockhouse, Mrs. Emil Brockhouse, Mrs. Clifford Hegener, Mrs. Earl Wallace, Mrs. William Martin and Mrs. C. L. Martin. Interment was made in the Beardstown city cemetery.

Mrs. Nona Owdom Attends Royal Neighbor Meeting

PATTERSON—Mrs. Nona Owdom, who has been recorder of the local Royal Neighbor Camp for the past seventeen years, attended an all day meeting in Jacksonville last Wednesday for all recorders in this area. The meeting was held at the Dunlap Hotel, with a luncheon served by the Royal Neighbors at the noon hour. The school of instruction was held by the supreme Recorder from Rock Island. There were also two State deputies present and several district deputies. Mrs. Owdom accompanied Mrs. Lena Hudson, recorder of White Hall camp, to the meeting.

Observes Birthday

Carol Kemp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kemp, observed her 10th birthday Saturday, Sept. 25th and a birthday party was held in her honor at her home Friday evening after school. Other children present were: Meleta Hicks, Joyce Pence, Terry Reno, Ruth Ann Vestel, Doris Jones, Patricia Spencer and Marilyn Lemon. All were schoolmates of Carol.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Owdom of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hicks and daughters Meleta and Mary Jane, were Sunday dinner guests of their mother, Mrs. Nona Owdom.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hubbard visited in Winchester Sunday afternoon with her cousin Ray King. They were accompanied by her nieces, Misses Ilah and Irma Lewis of Roodhouse.

Mrs. Erma Hatcher and Mrs. Jack Sullivan of White Hall visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Jay Barnett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brimm and family of White Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Powell and family of Hillview were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Bigham.

Mrs. Laura Arnold and daughter Rosa, spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carriger. Mrs. Nancy Barnett of White Hall was an afternoon visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McKinney of Jacksonville, spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. Nona Owdom, and they visited Sunday in Greenfield with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chinoweth, and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Oran Gotchall, from Wisconsin. The Gotchalls will visit overnight with the McKinneys in Jacksonville some night this week. The men were former army friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McBride and family were weekend visitors with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kramer in Peoria.

Mrs. Basil Kennedy of White Hall and her father Charles Cowper, spent Monday with Mrs. Harold Wilkinson. They visited in the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dawdy.

Mrs. Lowell Dawdy, Mrs. Ernest Dawdy, Mrs. Earl McEvers and Mrs. Nona Owdom attended the funeral of Mrs. Norman Wells, in Alsey, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McKinney of Jacksonville were Sunday evening supper guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnett.

Mrs. Anne Gaines of Alton spent Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. John Prindle.

Mrs. Laura Arnold has been ill the past few days at her home south of Patterson, and she was taken to the Passavant Hospital in Jacksonville Monday afternoon.

Harold Coker of Macomb and Judy Wade of Springfield spent the weekend with Mrs. Naomi Coker, and they visited Saturday in Griggsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor were Friday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Cade in White Hall.

BIG SWITCH—Connie Penn, left, and Marianne Schuderer turn and smile at Peter Tufo, John McCurdy and Richard Geudtner wearing Bermuda shorts to class at North Park Academy in Chicago. The school principal said there was no regulation against it and added the girls were pleased to see the boys dress differently.

Greenfield Lions Club Urges Stop Light At Crossing

GREENFIELD—The civic-minded Greenfield Lions Club has decided to do something about a problem which has been facing the city for sometime but has of late become increasingly worse.

The issue at hand is to have a stop light placed at the southeast corner of the public square. This crossing is used by the majority of the school children and other citizens in crossing route 67.

The club has long felt that some action must be taken. However, it will take more than the efforts of 35 Lions to make this a reality. The support of every person in and around Greenfield is needed.

How can you help? The answer is very simple. You will be asked in the next week or so to buy either a broom or a rubber door mat. However, these brooms and mats aren't just the ordinary variety. They are constructed by blind persons at the Lighthouse for the Blind in St. Louis, Mo. Purchasing a broom or mat will serve a double purpose. You will help the blind person who made it and you will help protect the children of our community by helping pay for a stop light.

Local VFW Leaders To Attend Meeting

Several Jacksonville VFW representatives will attend the annual membership kickoff meeting of the 10th district in Springfield Friday.

It will begin at 7:30 p.m. at La-Fore Lock Post 750, VFW clubrooms.

Department officers expected include Commander Harold M. Forsyth of Quincy, Ill., senior vice commander Roy K. Leckner of Carmi, Department Inspector Donald Skinner of Yorkville, Past Department Commander Roy Frazier and 10th district membership chairman Clarence Lercher.

Those expected from Jacksonville include Russell Alvarez, district senior vice commander, Charles W. Thady, commander, Clyde Watson, quartermaster and Richard L. Garfield, adjutant of the Morgan county post 1379.

Musical Hoedown October Theme Of Cub Pack 113

The regular monthly meeting of Cub Pack 113 of South Jacksonville school was held Sept. 24 at the school. The pledge to the flag was repeated by the group after which the cubs repeated their motto.

Don Littler, chairman, welcomed everyone and each parent was introduced. Harry Massey, theme chairman for the October Musical Hoedown, announced plans had been made for a wiener roast and square dance to be held at the October pack meeting. Homemade musical instruments are to be made by the cubs for this occasion.

Harry Beastall announced the square dance, the first of the season, would be on Oct. 2 at the school with Bowen's orchestra and Earl Lindsay as caller.

Ceremonies cubmaster, Harold Hembrough, presented the following awards; one year service stars to: Russell Gotschall, Jimmy Birdsell, Phillip Gotschall, Bill Lane, Chuck Blackburn, Mark Hapke, Ken Rice, Larry Hayes, Tommy O'Brian and Jimmy Stout.

Four boys graduated from the Pack into Boy Scout troop 113 and were welcomed by Bob Wallace, assistant scoutmaster. They were Gary Cruzan, Ken Rice, Russell Gotschall and Larry Hayes.

Russell Gotschall received his lion award and 3 silver arrows; Phillip Gotschall received 2 silver arrows on his wolf award. The following received webelos awards, the only patch which may be worn on the Scout uniform, Russell Gotschall, Ken Rice, Tommy O'Brian, Larry Hayes, Jimmy Stout, Gary Cruzan.

Several new cubs were inducted into the pack with an impressive candlelighting ceremony. They were Tommy Chapman, Rickie Watson, Bobby Kemp, Jerry Day, Mike Frederick, Danny Hayes, Wayne Blackburn and Dickie Hembrough.

Manchester Gets Grade School Gym

MANCHESTER—It has been announced by the Board of Education of Unit 1 that construction of a new gym for the Manchester School is progressing and is expected to be completed near the first of December. Approval of this Butler Steel Building, at a cost of $12,500, was made by the Board two months ago. Labor on the gym has been almost entirely volunteer, those in the community donating their services.

The gym is 50 by 100 feet, 21 feet high in the center and adjoins the grade school.

In addition to gym facilities for the Grade School there is an 18 ft. stage at the North end of the gym, with two dressing rooms underneath. The building will be insulated and have an asphalt tile floor and gas heat. It was hauled from Galesburg by volunteer truckers, with a saving of $400.

Over 50 volunteers have helped with the erection of the gym at a substantial saving to the School district.

Elmer Sooy is in charge of purchasing; Emory Funk, Building Erection and Eugene Barnett, wiring.

Virginia Students Win F.F.A. Meat Judging Contest

VIRGINIA — Last Saturday morning a team of three Future Farmers of America, juniors in the Virginia high school, accompanied by Adviser Shaw Terwilliger, agriculture instructor, went to Champaign, where they entered the meat judging contest.

The team included Ronnie Darland, Jim Logue and Tipton Cline. Verne Herzberger was the alternate.

The boys competed with teams from 54 schools in the state and were named state winners, with Champaign second.

Their ability was tested in meat judging and identification. They judged four sides of beef, four hams, four lamb carcasses, four wholesale cuts of beef ribs, and identified 25 cuts, including lamb, veal, pork and beef.

After they had been chosen state winners, they appeared on a radio program.

The team will go to Kansas City, the second week in October, when the national convention of FFA will meet. All state contest FFA winners will compete in 7 divisions: livestock, meat, dairy, judging, poultry, grain and milk judging.

The officers of the local FFA are: Lyle Anderson, president; Freddy Crawford, vice president; Richard Thompson, secretary; Ray Murphy, treasurer; Tipton Cline, reporter; Jim Carey, sentinel; Shaw Terwilliger, adviser.

To Meet Oct. 6

The Adah Robinson Chapter OES will hold its regular meeting Wednesday evening, October 6, at 7:30 in Masonic Hall.

Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Dean Hoyle, of National City, Calif., are the parents of a son, Stephen Wayne, born September 12. Hoyle is the son of Rev. and Mrs. George Hoyle, who resided in Virginia several years when Rev. Hoyle was pastor of the local Methodist church.

At Springfield Meeting

Four teachers from Cass county were in attendance at the representative assembly of the South Central division of the Illinois Education ascociation, held Saturday in the Abrahaim Lincoln hotel, Springfield.

Mrs. Helen Amant, Ashland high school; Miss Marguerite Campbell, Arenzville high school; Donald Barker, Beard school of Beardstown; B. W. Smith, Cass county superintendent of schools, were delegates representing the 138 teachers of Cass county. Seventy-eight delegates from ten counties represented 3,400 teachers at the Assembly.

The delegates heard reports on school legislation, tenure and retirement, salary trends and schedules. They saw a preview of a film entitled "Freedom To Learn" which has been produced by the National Education Association.

Each group of county delegates held a caucus, at which time the following persons were elected to hold office in Cass county for the ensuing year: Cass county chairman, B. W. Smith; legislative chairman, Mrs. Helen Amant; public relations chairman, Donald Barker; teacher welfare chairman, Marguerite Campbell.

The South Central Division is made up of the following counties: Brown, Cass, Christian, Macoupin, Menard, Montgomery, Morgan, Macon, Sangamon and Scott.

BANKING BEGGAR

DETROIT (AP)—Center Adams, 51, the man police call "Detroit's wealthiest beggar," has been sentenced to his 49th jail term.

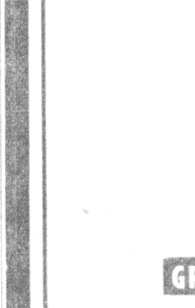

Police arrested him for begging and found $279 in cash in his pocket and a bank book with a $7,000 balance.

"The guy had only $1,800 when I first saw him 20 years ago," said Mike Menoskey, a probation officer.

Recorder's Judge John P. Scallen said: "$100 or 90 days."

Said Adams: "That fine is too stiff for a poor man."

STEEL CITY HISTORY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—When this steel capital observes its bicentennial in 1958 it expects to have published one of the most complete histories of any city in the world. Author Stefan Lorant has been retained to edit the volume which is expected to run more than 500 pages, have 250,000 or more words of textual matter and at least 750 photographic illustrations.

The project is being financed by several Pittsburgh trusts and foundations.

N. Jacksonville Community Club Opens Activity

Friday night was the first meeting this fall for the North Jacksonville Community club held at the school gym. The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag.

During the business session the resignation of B. A. Bollman from the dance committee was accepted and Clyde Patterson named to fill the vacancy. Mr. Leiber, school principal, announced the special occasions scheduled during the coming school year.

The program and social committees for October and November were announced: October, program, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sorrills, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Petefish and Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Scott and social, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Henderson, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Cain and Mrs. Frank Cummins and for November, program, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Werries and social, Mr. and Mrs. John Hadden, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. James Sandiage, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson, Mr. and Mr. James Hadden and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pence.

The program consisted of a travelogue by Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Schuette who told of their recent trip to Europe and showed slides.

Guild Will Help Murrayville WSCS At Bazaar Oct. 26

MURRAYVILLE— The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist church met Thursday evening, Sept. 23 with Mrs. Nellie Tendick.

The meeting opened by singing hyms followed by a prayer by the president, Mrs. Nellie Tendick. The The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. It was voted to help the W.S.C.S. with the bazaar they are having in November. The president read a letter from a Missionary in Sudan which was very interesting.

It was voted to clean the church on Oct. 26.

Mrs. Beverly Heaton precented the worship service and Mrs. Londa McKnelly gave the program entitled "Jesus' Concern for the Cities." The next meeting will be with Miss Bernice Harvey on Oct. 28 following a family wiener roast which will be held in the Murrayville Park at 6 o'clock. The benediction was repeated after which lovely refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time followed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Mehrhoff have received word of the birth of a son on Sept. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Day of San Francisco, Calif. He has been named Paul Stephen. Mrs. Day will be remembered here as the former Carol Mehrhoff.

Mrs. Louise Hodges and family moved Saturday from the S. C. Martin apartment, to Jacksonville.

Miss Mary Lou Smith fo Pekin spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith and Vera.

Mrs. Sadie Million was a supper guest Tuesday evening of her sister, Mrs. Clara Roberts of Jacksonville. Another sister, Mrs. Ida Ketner was also a guest in the Roberts home.

Mrs. S. C. Martin is a medical patient in Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cadigan of Springfield spent Saturday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Walter Hellenthal and husband. Mrs. Cadigan remained over Sunday.

REDS READMIT DIEGO RIVERA

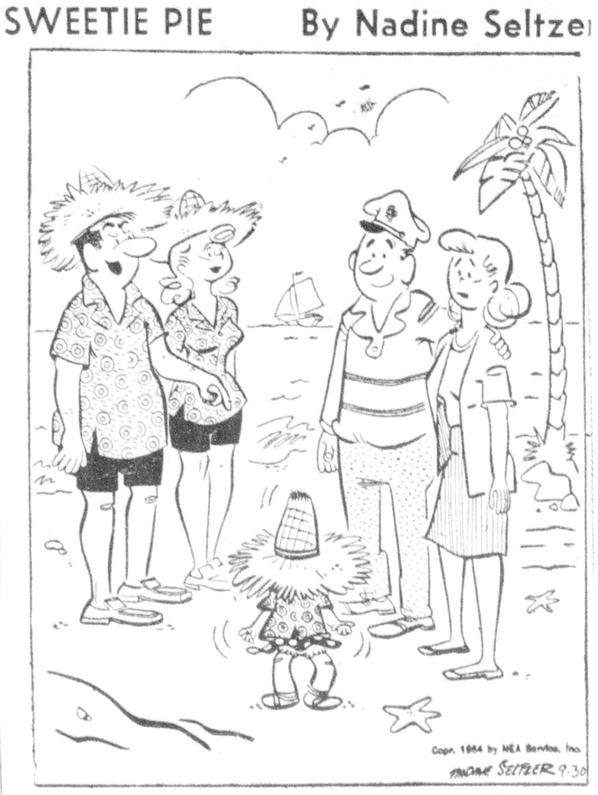

MEXICO CITY (AP)—It's official again! Painter Diego Rivera is a Communist.

The leftist Mexican muralist, thrown out of the party a quarter century ago for criticizing Marxism after a long visit to Soviet Russia, was readmitted at a closed weekend meeting of the Communist national convention.

The secretary general Diniosio Ensina, said Rivera's attitude had begun to change in 1941, that he "has been pardoned" and received back in the fold.

Neely Campaigns On Surprising Platform

(Editor's note: In American history, off-year elections often have supplied the clue to political capture of the White House two years hence. This year, President Eisenhower has called for election of a Republican Congress from the 36 senatorial and 432 house seats to be filled Nov. 2. The Associated Press has sent four experienced political writers into key states to appraise and report campaign trends. This if the first of several stories.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia's fiery, 79-year-old Sen. Matthew M. Neely (Democrat) is fighting today for a fifth term in the U. S. Senate on the politically surprising platform: I-Don't-Like-Ike.

Generally, Democratic candidates have aimed their criticisms at "the administration" while tiptoeing around any direct assaults on President Eisenhower himself.

But Neely is an exception and he's waging an anti-Eisenhower campaign in his effort to defeat his Republican opponent, 50-year-old Thomas B. Sweeney of Wheeling, who is making his third bid for a Senate seat. Eight years ago, Sweeney fell short of beating Sen. Harley Kilgore (D-W.Va.) by only 3,852 votes.

Neely has aimed at Eisenhower such darts as these:

"In 32 years in Washington, I've never seen a more useless President than Dwight D. Eisenhower."

"Eisenhower is a political myth."

"He's the poorest President the United States ever had."

Neely says he has no fears that such attacks will hurt his own chances for re-election. He points to his nomination with more votes than all of his three opponents combined.

At this stage, even Republican leaders concede privately that Neely's tactics apparently have done him no great harm and they don't seem inclined to make Eisenhower's economic record the issue in the campaign.

The GOP theme of "peace, progress and prosperity" appears to have a doubtful appeal in the state with the highest unemployment in relation to size of any state in the union. The jobless total is estimated as high as 173,000, most of them in the soft coal fields.

Arguments are developing around whether the Democrats or the Republicans are to blame for the situation. And Republicans say their best chance of beating Neely would come from a coal field revolt against the Democrats.

Sweeney is counting on just such a rebellion. He said in an interview:

"The miners know that twice as many mines closed during the Truman administration as in the Eisenhower administration. They know their troubles began under the Democrats long before Eisenhower took office. But the Democrats are trying to shift responsibility on the Eisenhower administration.

"What the miners believe will determine the outcome of my contest.

"The miners haven't decided how they are going to vote. I hear them say that their troubles can be traced to the fact coal has been priced out of the market and their own leaders are to blame."

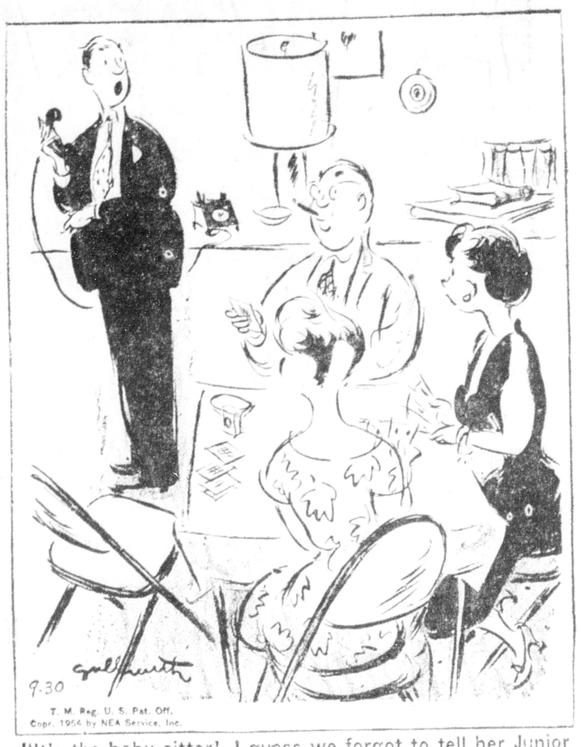

Neely doesn't argue that the Ensenhower administration caused the ills of the coal fields which have been growing for years as gas and oil moved into the fuel market. He says the Republicans failed by not starting a public works program to ease West Virginia's unemployment situation, and by "encouraging" the imports of residual fuel oil which have hurt the coal market.

The state's Republican leadership for the most part appears inclined to write off the mine vote. One of them, asking not to be quoted by name, said: "We could not swing the state to Eisenhower in 1952 when he was at the peak of his popularity. It would be foolish for me to say we can do it this year. But there are a lot of local issues involved in this thing that might turn the tide. We aren't giving up hope."

Based on registration of voters, the odds are against Sweeney and in favor of Neely. There are about 700,000 registered Democrats against 460,000 Republicans. Two years ago, Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson polled 453,578 votes to 419,970 for Eisenhower.

The Republicans do have high hopes, apparently based on sound grounds, that they will hold onto their lone House seat while capturing at least one and possibly two others. The state's House delegation is now Democratic, 5-1.

Films Shown To Morgan Dentists

The first fall dinner meeting of the Morgan County Dental Society was held Friday evening in the Pilgrim Room at Hamilton's.

Following the business session, conducted by Dr. Robert W. Herr, president, two American Dental Association films were shown. They were Prevention of Malpractice Claims and Alginate Full Denture Technique.

Dr. James L. Bunch, Dr. Ross Bradley, Dr. Robert Lee Davis and Dr. Francis Angel were appointed to serve on the public health committee.

The next meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Oct. 22 with Dr. Raymond Templin in charge of the program.

GUESSING GAME AT WEST SIDE CLUB

The West Side Woman's club held a regular meeting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Ella Russell as hostess. The president, Mrs. Cornelia Carter, conducted the session attended by eight members.

After routine business was disposed of a string game was played and the prize won by Mrs. Bessie Underwood guessing the nearest amount of inches in some string.

Assessments were paid by those present and lovely refreshments were served by the hostess. The club will meet next on Oct. 8 with Mrs. Laura Smith.

KITCHEN POLICE

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Somewhere on Mt. Kearsage, about 40 miles from her home here, Mrs. Joseph Kovner suddenly remembered she had forgotten to shut off the oven.

A Kearsarge custodian started a relay in motion. Sunapee State Park was given the word and passed it on to State Police, who informed local lawmen.

A Concord cruiser sped to the Kovner home and officers shut off the oven.

The roast was saved.

Bluffs Junior Club Honors New Members

BLUFFS— The Junior Womens club held its annual tea honoring new members and guests recently at the Civic Club rooms. Mrs. Leroy Pond, retiring president, presided over the meeting and installed the new president, Mrs. Carroll Sears and vice president, Mrs. Alvin Davis.

During the business session plans were made for attending the Fall banquet to be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 5 at the Dunlap hotel. Reservations should be given to Mrs. Howard Six by Sept. 29. The group will meet at the Gamble Store at 5:5 on the banquet date to go to Jacksonville.

The program was given by Mrs. Lou Baird who gave an interesting talk and demonstration on the art of painting.

Refreshments of cookies, nuts and coffee were served by the members of the program committee from a beautifully appointed tea table. The committee members are Mrs. Norris Whorton, Mrs. David Orchard, Mrs. Alvin Davis, Mrs. Robert Preesen and Mrs. Paul Welch.

The guests included Mrs. Wilmont Boehs, Mrs. Dean Merriman, Mrs. Everett Neese, Mrs. Milton Lovekamp, Mrs. Richard Brackett, Mrs. Lloyd Driskell, Misses Joyce Rebbe and Shirley Booker. The members were Mrs. Harold Kilver, Mrs. Richard Albers, Mrs. Bobby Berry, Mrs. Alvin Davis, Mrs. Norman Engelbrecht, Mrs. Marvin Hierman, Mrs. Herbert Hinners, Mrs. Leland Littig, Mrs. Carroll Sears, Mrs. Howard Six, Msr. Charles Williams, Mrs. Norris Whorton, Hrs. Leland McAllister, Mrs. David Orchard, Mrs. Leroy Pond, Mrs. Paul Welch and Mrs. William Waterman.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Main returned home Thursday from a several days visit with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Main at Pewaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Adams and niece, Brenda Kay, from San Bernadino, Calif. arrived Saturday in Naples for a visit with his father, Leo W. Adams.

HOME-LOVING HUSBAND

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—This is certainly a switch:

Florence B. Figowitz filed a divorce suit in circuit court, charging that her husband, Simon, insisted on doing all the housework.

He wouldn't let her perform household tasks, she complained, because he "wanted things done in a certain way."

Dusty Rhodes' Homer Gives Giants Series Victory

'Just Trying For A Hit': Dusty Rhodes

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes, mighty New York Giant pinch hitter whose home run in the 10th inning, won the opening game of the 1954 World Series, confessed after the game Wednesday it was an accident of sorts.

"I wasn't trying for a home run," he said. "I was just trying for a hit."

But what a hit—a decisive three-run homer!

"It was the best hit I ever got in my life," he laughed.

"Were you worried going up there as a pinch hitter?" a reporter asked.

"Nope," he said flatly. "The pitcher is the guy who worries. He's got to get me out."

Rhodes' homer was on a curve thrown by Bob Lemon, the Cleveland Indian ace.

Manager Leo Durocher of the victorious Giants, after praising Rhodes and Willie Mays, heaped his affection on his pitchers.

"It was great relief pitching," he said. "I got just what I wanted."

His reliefers were Don Liddle and Marv Grissom.

Liddle, as a matter of fact pitched only to one batter. The scene was this:

Sal Maglie, the crafty 37-year-old Giant starter, had weakened. In the eighth he walked Larry Doby to open the inning. Then Al Rosen singled. Up came Vic Wertz. The big first baseman of the Indians already had a triple and two singles to his credit, and was destined to get a double in the 10th.

So Durocher waved in Liddle and Maglie made the long, slow walk to the Giant clubhouse.

Wertz smashed a drive straight to center that would have been a home run in almost any other major league park.

Willie Mays turned his back to the diamond and ran as hard as he could. At the very wall, 450 feet from the plate, with his back still to the playing field, Mays made a catch that looked impossible.

Durocher said under no circumstances would he have allowed Liddle to pitch to the next batter, Dave Philley, who is a switch hitter.

In fact, at this point came some super master minding. Manager Al Lopez sent up Hank Majeski, a righthanded hitter, in place of Philley. Durocher lifted Liddle, a southpaw and sent in Grissom, a righthander. So Lopez didn't let Majeski bat but replaced him with Dale Mitchell, a lefthanded hitter. Grissom walked him, but Dave Pope, batting for George Strickland, was retired on strikes, and catcher Jim Hegan ended the inning by flying out.

Durocher was a happy manager after the game, but not a boastful or elated one. Explaining he was superstitious, he asked photographers to leave him alone which they didn't "and take the players instead."

"That catch of Mays—it was great. The wind was blowing, he had his back to the diamond, and I don't know (sic) if he can do it."

But he added:

"I've seen Willie catch so many nothing, he does now ever fazes me."

World Series Notes

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you describe a Chinese home run in Spanish?

Dusty Rhodes' hump-backed blow in the 10th inning, giving the New York Giants the first game over Cleveland 5-2, offered this complication Wednesday when the World Series was beamed around the world in almost every language.

It was broadcast in English, French and Spanish and televised to every state in the Union.

A motherly looking, grey haired woman wearing a huge orchid beamed at "her Giants" from a dignitaries' box behind the New York dugout.

Mrs. John McGraw was starting her 15th World Series.

"I've been here every time the Giants played in a series since 1905," she said. "I come to the games at least three times a week, just as I did when Mr. McGraw was here."

McGraw, who died in 1934, managed the Giants from 1902 to 1932.

Her prediction for the series? "There's only one team, of course," she replied.

Customers arriving at the Polo Grounds had a newspaper thrust in their hands with the comment: "Take it—it's free."

It was a special edition of the Phoenix Ariz. Gazette flown here especially for the opening game. The paper carried the streamer: "PHOENIX CHEERS GIANTS IN SERIES."

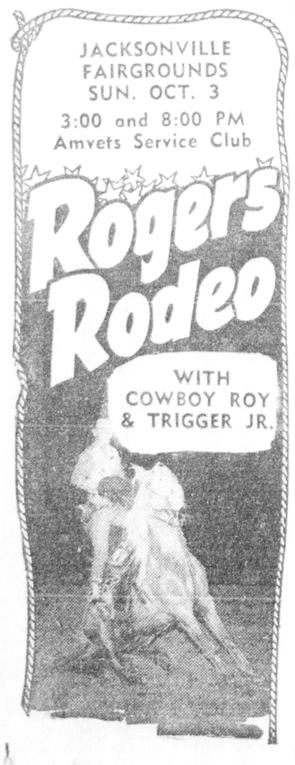

The Giants trained at Phoenix, the Indians at Tucson.

There were at least 5,000 empty seats in the stands when Cleveland scored two runs in the first inning, proving the first game World Series crowd is not the dyed-in-wool baseball variety. Some patrons were drifting in as late as the third inning.

It was a bit incongruous to see Joe DiMaggio, his hair flecked with gray, crammed into the tight press quarters. The ex-Yankee great chain-smoked nervously and looked much more ill at ease as special correspondent for a news syndicate than when he was up there with two out and the count three-and-two. Marilyn is in Hollywood.

Laraine Day, wife of the Giants' Manager Leo Durocher, walked blithely up to the press gate as a force of habit and presented tickets for herself and her guests. But she didn't get in—not there. She had to go to another gate where she was admitted. Her guests included Spencer Tracy and Danny Kaye.

When Phil Cavaretta of the White Sox played in his 2,000th major league game on Aug. 15 he became the 53rd player in the history of the big leagues to take part in that many contests.

Stanford Poses Defensive Problem For Illini: Agase

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Sept. 29—Stanford's Indians, 18-13 victors over highly-regarded Oregon last Saturday night, pose a tremendous defensive problem for Illinois this week. That's the opinion of line coach Lou Agase, who scouted the west coast team in its first two games this season.

"Stanford Coach Chuck Taylor has come up with a great young quarterback in John Brodie, a sophomore who started and finished both games," Agase said. "They aren't going to miss Bobby Garrett at all."

Agase had nothing but praise for the Indians. "A big, aggressive line, fast halfbacks, a hard-running fullback and an excellent passing attack give Stanford a well-balanced offense," he said.

Brodie's favorite receiver is John Stewart, Stanford left end, whom Agase rates among the finest pass catchers he has seen in several years.

In the Stanford backfield with Brodie are two fine young halfbacks, sophomore Gerdy Young and junior Ernie Dorn. Young is a great prospect in Agase's opinion and Dorn, son of a former Illinois baseball and basketball star, is well known to Illinois fans for his fine running in Memorial Stadium last season. At fullback for the Indians is Bill Tarr, 5-10, 190-pounder whose powerful thrusts up the middle plagued Oregon throughout the game Saturday night.

"Key players in the Indian line are two fine tackles," Agase said. "Not only are they big, but they move well. They are veterans Win Wedge, 5-10, 205 pounds, and Paul Wiggin, 6-3, 225 pounds."

Coach Bob Kraushaar sent his Jacksonville Crimsons through passing and pass defense drills yesterday getting ready for Carlinville tomorrow night. As Coach Bob put it, "we expect Carlinville to go to the air and we want to be ready for them."

—o—

Freshmen coaches Blazier and Gierke saw the Carlinville-Virden game last Friday night which Virden won by one touchdown. However they reported the game could have very easily gone the other way.

—o—

Coach Kraushaar has shuffled his lineup in his attempt to find a suitable pass protection defense. This moving around has resulted in the moving of a half back to a defense end post and the two ends to tackles. Larry Scott, a half back on offense, will play end on defense in Friday's game. The two regular ends, Hudson and Knight will be moved to tackles when the other team has the ball.

—o—

A regular tackle, Marquard, will join Woodward at a guard spot on defense and move back to his tackle position on offense. The other end will be filled by either Samples or Rexroat. Prather, who has a sprained ankle, and Max Roegge will back up the line. Skip Dyer and Jack Fairfield will play defensive half and Bill Lewis will be at safety.

—o—

The offensive line will have a couple of changes also. Jim Woodward, normally a guard, will be at tackle on offense and his guard spot will be filled by Prather. Hudson and Knight will be at ends with Hill at the other guard and Marquard joining Woody at the other tackle. Halfback Kent Dawson has a bad hip and has been out the past two days. This leaves the running attack to Dyer, Trier, Fairfield and Scott.

—o—

Coach Bob wasn't too well pleased with his squad after yesterday's workouts. He wasn't satisfied with the protection given to passers and admits his line will have to get tougher. We feel the Crimsons have their two "bad" games out of the way and will get rolling tomorrow night. Can't think of a better time to get started.

—o—

From the University comes word that Max Hooper, basketball and baseball star the past three years, has been named acting freshman basketball coach for the Illini. Director of athletics Doug Mills announced the Mt. Vernon product will serve pending assignment by the Air Force in which he is a reserve.

—o—

Illinois' Homecoming game with Wisconsin in Memorial Stadium November 13 is a complete sellout according to George Legg the ticket manager. This means a capacity crowd of 71,119 will witness the 44th annual homecoming celebration. Tickets for the Ohio State game are moving fast and another sellout is anticipated for this clash.

Vonnie Colby Cops Medalist Honors With 77

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla. won medalist honors Tuesday in the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament with a 77, one over women's par.

The Florida girl edged favorite Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, former national women's amateur champion, by a stroke. Tying Miss Faulk for runnerup were Minnie Lee Ashley of Gadsden, Ala., Joan Prentice of Birmingham and Marj Burns of Greensboro, N. C.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, co-favorite with Miss Faulk, shot a disappointing 80 on the Glen Arven Country Club course. Two other stars, Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., and Mary Ann Villegas of New Orleans, had 80 and 79 respectively.

Defending champion Edean Anderson Ihlanfeldt of Seattle made the championship flight of 32 with an 82.

First round pairings with qualifying scores (championship flight) include Mrs. Marjorie Lindsay McMillen, Decatur, Ill. (81) vs. Mrs. Pearson Mencher, Southern Pines, N.C. (95); Janice Phelps, Atlanta, (85) vs. Shirley Lindsay, Decatur, Ill. (95); Mrs. Georgia Willcox, Miami, Fla. (87) vs. Ruth Tenk, Quincy, Ill. (97).

COACH COMES HOME

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier is home at last.

The new football coach at the University of Kentucky and a native of this state says: "Coaching at my home state university is something I always had in the back of my mind. It was my ultimate ambition."

Collier became widely recognized in football as the assistant to Paul Brown, head mentor of the Cleveland Browns in the pro ranks.

Scribe Picks Illini, Notre Dame To Win

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Now, you take Illinois and Michigan State. The Swami did last week and fumbled twice in his first round of Midwest football predictions. Here's round No. 2:

Notre Dame 21, Purdue 13—The Irish still have to prove they can move on the ground, but they controlled the air lanes—offensively and defensively—against Texas.....Purdue's best weapon is the passing of soph quarterback Len Dawson, who pitched four touchdown shots against Missouri.....The Boilermakers could upset, especially with the Irish subsided from their "winning the opener for Terry" fever.

Wisconsin 19, Michigan State 14—Michigan State may have the ponies, but Wisconsin has The Horse, fullback Alan Ameche....Badger passing this season may be phenomenal with the twin sharpshooting duo of Jim Miller and Jim Haluska....The Spartans ran out of gas against Iowa, while Wisconsin was just beginning to roll as the game ended against routed Marquette...MSC has to win to stay in the Big Ten race.

Ohio State 21, California 13—The Buckeyes quietly seem to be preparing to cut a mean caper in the Big Ten chase.....Pappy Waldorf, former Northwestern coach, returns to Big Ten territory with a good California team.

Illinois 14, Stanford 7—That's if the Illini learned to block and tackle during the week.....The speed of J. C. Caroline and Abe Woodson can't be bottled up two successive Saturdays.....Penn State may have provided the spark the Illini needed to burn their press clippings.

Minnesota 18, Pittsburgh 14—Pitt played impressively in losing to Southern California 27-7, but Minnesota's Gophers got the confidence they needed in downing Nebraska 19-7.

Iowa 28, Montana 7—The Hawkeyes should enjoy this breather after tumbling Michigan State.

Michigan 28, Army 14—If South Carolina can man-handle Army, so can the Wolverines.

Indiana 19, College of Pacific 13—The Hoosiers will have to hustle against a COP team which was shaded only 13-12 by Stanford two weeks ago.

Southern California 21, Northwestern 7—Trojan speed should bag the Wildcats, who had plenty of trouble with Iowa State.

Colored Action Shot Transmitted By AP Wirephoto

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press Wirephoto system Wednesday night transmitted in color one of the top action pictures of the first 1954 World Series game. It was the first time World Series picture copy in color had been sent on a spot basis by Wirephoto.

Three color separation prints were sent to 18 newspapers—from Maine to California and from Washington State to Florida—which participated in the special project.

The color shot showed Vic Wertz, Cleveland Indians' hard-hitting first baseman, sliding into third base on his triple.

Football Briefs

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Dick Fitzgerald, erstwhile fullback, ran at left halfback Wednesday as Terry Brennan scrimmaged his Notre Dame footballers with frequent substitutions.

Regular left half has been senior Joe Heap. The starting backfield for the scrimmage also included Ralph Guglielmi at quarterback, sophomore Jim Morse at right half; and Don Schaefer at fullback.

Paul Reynolds, like Fitzgerald an injury-jinxed back, is unlikely to see action against Purdue Saturday although he played 15 minutes in Notre Dame's 21-0 victory over Texas.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Fullback Mickey Bates may switch back to his old right halfmack post for Illinois' game at Stanford Saturday.

With sophomore Abe Woodson, right half starter against Penn State, sidelined by an injured ankle, Bates has been working part time at that position.

If Bates plays right half, the fullback spot will be filled by Bob Wiman. The Illini will leave by chartered plane for the West Coast Thursday.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Fullback Bob Lauter and quarterback John Reardon were back in action at Northwestern Wednesday after being sidelined two days with influenze.

Tackle John Smith, also ill, suited up but did not scrimmage with the rest. Another with the same ailment, second - string fullback Wayne Glassman, may not be recovered sufficiently to play in Saturday's game against Southern California.

Also questionable for the game is sophomore end Jack Stillwell, who is nursing a sprained elbow. Center John Damore has a knee injury but is expected to be ready.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Defense was the main course for Wisconsin's gridders Wednesday as they went through their last tough workout before Saturday's game with Michigan State at East Lansing.

In hot muggy weather the Badger reserves ran Sparton plays at the varsity for more than an hour. Then the team switched to a review of line blocking assignments and a rehearsal of plays.

SOUTHPAW SENSATION

BROOKLYN (AP)—Fresco Thompson, farm director of the Brooklyn Dodgers, likes to talk about the current sensation of his minor league crop. It's a 23-year old southpaw hurler named Karl Spooner.

Playing for Fort Worth in the Texas League, Spooner has won over 20 games and has fanned over 250 batters. In one game he struck out 15.

Karl Spooner, southpaw who joined the Brooklyn Dodgers at the end of this season, led the Texas League in strikeouts with 262. He won 29 games and lost nine for the Fort Worth Cats.

'Longest Out, Shortest Homer Of Season Beat Us' Relates Manger Lopaz

By FRITZ HOWELL

NEW YORK (AP)—"The longest out and the shortest home run of the season beat us, that's all!"

That's how Senor Al Lopez, Cleveland's smiling-in-defeat manager, summed up Wednesday's opening World Series victory by the New York Giants over his American League champions.

He referred to the sensational catch by Giant centerfielder Willie Mays of a screaming 450-foot drive off the bat of Vic Wertz, and the climactic 270-foot homer with pinchhitter Dusty Rhodes ended the game in the 10th.

The Indians had two aboard, the score was tied at 2-2. Wertz blasted a 2-1 pitch deep into centerfield, but Mays turned his back to the plate, almost crashed into the wall while making the catch, fell to the ground, and threw on the fly to second base to keep everyone away from the plate.

Of Rhodes' home run, Lopez said:

"I though it was just a routine out when it left the bat. Dave Pope said he thought he had the ball all the way, but the wind caught it. But it was a home run, and there's no defense against home runs."

Bob Lemon, who pitched all the way, had little to say about the homer.

"That's the way it goes," he said "but I'll have to admit it's tough to lose on a hit like that one. I thought it was just another out, and all at once the game's over."

"We had a couple of chances to win the game in nine innings," Lopez said, "but it just didn't work out. In the eighth with the bases loaded and one out Pope looked at a third strike.

"And in the sixth when Wertz led off with his single and Mueller threw wildly trying to pick him off first Vic could have reached third instead of second, but for an unfortunate thing.

"He wears a protective shin guard on his right leg, and as he started for second after the ball got away from the first baseman and the catcher, the guard broke loose and stopped him. It's the first time the guard has ever hampered him.

Wertz, who had a four-for-five day to lead the hitters with a triple, two singles and a double, was more upset by the shin guard incident than he was elated by his batting.

"I've worn that thing all season," he said, "and I have my first trouble with it in the World Series."

In the rough third inning, when the Giants combed Lemon for three hits and two runs, Lopez walked out to talk with his pitcher and then had a chat with Umpire Al Barlick behind the plate.

Asked if he had protested something to the umpire, or had given any instructions to Lemon, Lopez said:

"Neither one. I just asked Lemon how he was feeling. He said he was okay. On the way back to the bench, I stopped and asked Barlick how he was feeling. He said he was 'Swell.'"

Later Lemon said Lopez had mentioned he was pitching pretty fast with men on bases, and to slow down a little.

Virginia Invades Routt At 8:00

The strong Virginia Redbirds of the PMBC Conference invade Jacksonville tonight for a 8:00 battle with the Routt Rockets in a conference game.

The host Routt team enters its third game of the season with a 1-0-1 record. The Rockets whipped Meredosia 20-0 in the season's opener and played Chapin to a 20-20 tie last Friday night.

The Virginia club has enjoyed a very successful season thus far. They have rolled up identical scores of 39-6 against Meredosia and Chapin.

Coach Jim Smarjesse plans to keep the same starting lineup. George Dee, a junior, has reported for practice and will be eligible for next week's game with Arenzville.

Other games will find Arenzville at Chandlerville in a PMBC Conference game and Macomb at Beardstown.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a beautiful summer day at the Polo Grounds but the Indians, despite some heroic pitching by Bob Lemon and some heroic hitting by Vic Wertz, didn't enjoy it.

It was confirmed by now, that they lost the first game of the World Series to the Giant's 5-2 with Duty Rhodes' two-bit, wind-blown pinch home run in the 10th inning the clincher, a blow that classifies Leo Durocher as a double-domed genius.

Before the game the dapper little manager had explained his reason for starting Monte Irvin instead of Rhodes thusly:

"I want to have Rhodes on the bench to use as a pinch hitter if I need him."

That seemed a little hard to follow as Rhodes would be up only once instead of four or five times, but it turned out once was enough, and how Durocher knew it would be enough is his secret.

It really was two ball games in one that balmy Wednesday afternoon, the doubleheader effect arising from the fact that for about seven innings the game went along in rather routine fashion despite the tie score, then erupted into a series of pulse-stopping moments which must at times have been excruciating to Giant fans in the crowd.

The New Yorkers were in more holes than a coal miner, but always climbed out, begrimed but defiant.

They were saved oftener than Little Nell, with the most thrilling rescue of all the slightly impossible catch by Willie May of Vic Wertz's tremendous drive almost to dead center.

That feat came in the eighth inning with two Indians on base and none down, and preceded some powerful master minding by Al Lopez and the already mentioned genius, Durocher.

Sal Maglie had been leaving Indians pining away on the bases in practically every inning. He had been relieved by Don Liddle when Wertz made a hero out of Hays, but when Hank Majeski was announced as a pinch hitter for Dave Philley, Durocher yanked Liddle in favor of Marv Grissom.

Brains were whirling all over the place by this time, and as soon as Grissom trudged in from the bullpen, Lopez withdrew Majeski and sent up Dale Mitchell to hit. Mitchell walked, but the Giants staggered through the inning without getting hurt.

Some of the Giant troubles were of their own making. In the sixth, for instance, Wertz opened with a routine single to right. Don Mueller threw to first hoping to catch him returning to the base. That is, he threw in the general direction of first. The ball passed far to the foul side of the bag, and found an open pasture.

Wes Westrum, the Giant catcher, was thoroughly adjusting his shin guards at homeplate, and before he could retriece the ball, Wertz was on second, and might have made third if he wasn't Wertz. Anyway Maglie got out of that mess too, thanks to a fine play by third baseman Hank Thompson on Jim Hegan's sizzler.

Al Andrews KO's Gil Turner In 3rd

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Andrews, an 8-5 underdog, from Superior, Wis., landed a sledgehammer right at the outset of the third round to knock out seasoned Gil Turner in a surprising upset at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Each fighter weighed 154½ for their scheduled 10-round return match. Turner had scored a close victory over Andrews at the Stadium Aug. 18.

Andrews rushed across the ring at the start of the third round and swung an overhand right to the jaw which felled the Philadelphia Negro as if he was stoned.

The time was 12 seconds of the third, but it was several minutes before Turner, laying flat on his back, could be revived.

The referee and both judges had Andrews ahead, 20 points to 18, after the first two rounds, giving him an edge in each stanza.

Dusty's Pinch Blast In 10th, Mays Great Catch Spark 5-2 Win

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes' 270-foot pinch home run with two men on base in the 10th inning won a dramatic World Series opener for the New York Giants Wednesday, 5-2, after a terrific catch by Willie Mays and a tremendous relief pitching by Marv Grissom blunted Cleveland threats.

Rhodes, a sensational pinch hitter in the Giants' pennant march, barely reached the right field stands as he swung on Bob Lemon's first pitch. The ball sailed over the head of leaping Dave Pope and just made it into the lower stands, bouncing off the hands of a fan and rolling back onto the field as the umpire signaled home run.

Cleveland had been threatening all through the late innings, leaving 13 men on the bases the entire game while Grissom escaped by the thinnest of margins.

In the Giant 10th, after Don Mueller struck out, Mays worked Lemon for a walk. As Lemon threw a ball to the next hitter, Hank Thompson, Mays lit out for second, sliding in under the bouncing peg of Mickey Grasso who had just taken up Cleveland's catching chores.

With Mays on second, Manager Al Lopez ordered Lemon to pass Thompson intentionally, setting the stage for a possible double play. Rhodes, who delivered 15 pinch hits in 45 trips during the regular season, crossed him up.

It was the same Mr. Rhodes who Manager Leo Durocher was going to start in left field before he finally decided to stick with the veteran Monte Irvin.

The throat-clutching finish, however, didn't dim the lustre of Mays' magnificient catch on Vic Wertz' 450-foot smash to deep center in the eighth. If Willie, the Giants' bubbling "Say Hey Kid" hadn't caught that one with two men on and nobody out, there never would have been any chance for Rhodes' heroics.

Wertz already had three hits, including a two-run triple off Sal Maglie in the first inning, when he came to bat in the eighth, with the score tied at 2-2. Larry Doby had walked and Al Rosen had singled.

The baldish first baseman, picked up from Baltimore early in June, slammed reliefer Don Liddle's fourth pitch far to deep center. Mays took one sight on the ball, turned his back and raced pell mell toward the four-foot wall in front of the bleachers. Just when it seemed the exuberant Negro lad must smash into the wall, he put out his hands to grab the ball without a look toward the plate.

Until he grabbed Wertz, bid for a sure double, Mays had been well on the way to being a bust in this first game. He hadn't hit the ball out of the infield and had managed only a walk.

But in the end it was Mays' catch and his steal of second that set things up for Rhodes to win it all with the fourth pinch homer in series history. Only Yogi Berra in 1947, Johnny Mize in 1952 and George Shuba in 1953 had done it before.

Just as Mays and Rhodes shared the final honors, it was old tomato-faced Grissom, a 36-year-old American League refugee, who held the fort through the perils of the eighth, ninth and tenth.

Cleveland had the bases full with one out in the eighth as Grissom struck out pinch hitter Dave Pope and retired Jim Hegan on a fly ball. In the ninth, the Tribe had men on first and second with two out when Monte Irvin dropped a fly ball and Larry Doby was walked intentionally. Once again marvelous Marv came through, getting Rosen on an inning-ending fly.

In the first of the 10th, the Tribe still was at it. Wertz opened with a double to left center that might have been a triple by a faster man. It was his fourth hit, tying a series mark held by several players.

Sam Dente's sacrifice shoved pinch runner Rudy Regaldo to third and Pope was walked intentionally. There was Grissom, with Indians on first and third and only one gone. He curled a curve past pinch hitter Bill Glynn for a strikeout and escaped once more when Lemon, who went all the way for the losers, lined out to first baseman Whitey Lockman.

In the last three innings, Grissom left seven Cleveland runners on base. It began to look as though he'd have to go on doing that all night, for the Giants had only one hit—a single by Don Mueller in the seventh—from the fourth to the tenth. The end to this double-ulcer thriller came with the same quick flash that Bobby Thomson won the famous playoff with Brooklyn in 1951. Thomson's hit was to left and Rhodes to right, one of the shortest home runs ever hit in any series.

The bumper crowd of 52,751 paid a net $316,957.25.

SOUNDS SIMPLE FROM A GIRL

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A girl watching an outboard race on the Connecticut River remarked: "my boy friend's got a hog in his boat; he hit a sleeper and dug in."

To an inquiring reporter she gave this translation: Hog, a buckling in the planks. Sleeper, an unexpected wave. Dig in, bow plowing into the water instead of riding above it.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Buyers picked a handful of favorites Wednesday and bid prices up, but the market as a whole closed lower in a quiet manner.

Some of the best gains were scored by motors while others were found in oils, business equipments, textiles and farm implements.

Railroads were depressed throughout the session. Other divisions were mixed to lower.

The World Series opening game had a dampening effect on business. Many brokers and their customers went to the game or paid more attention to the radio and television versions than they did to securities.

Trading opened with a rush and then subsided.

Prices moved narrowly for the most part with maximum changes running to around three points either way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 70 cents at $136.30. It was up 10 cents Tuesday at the 25-year peak established the previous Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with a lower tendency. Volume amounted to 630,000 shares as compared with 580,000 shares traded Tuesday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Medium grade railroads tipped the bond market downward Wednesday in slow trading.

"Big Board" volume eased to $2,630,000 par value from $2,662,000 Tuesday as a plentiful supply of bonds of the more speculative type carriers depressed the corporate list. Utilities and industrials were fairly steady, traded on a highly selective basis.

U. S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

An investment banking group headed by First National Bank of Chicago captured 7,030,000 Macon County, Ill., Decatur school bonds in competitive bidding. Net interest cost for 1955-73 maturities was 1.941 per cent. The tax-exempts were reoffered priced to yield from .75 to 2.10 per cent.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—The top price on hogs sank to the lowest level since February 1953 while prime steers brought their best price since May in the livestock market Wednesday.

Butcher hogs fell 50 to 75 cents while sows lost 25 cents as 9,500 salable head turned up at the yards, 1,500 more than expected. Practical top was $19.65, although a part load reached $19.75.

Some 160 to 180-pound butchers were taken at $18.00 to $19.00. Sows sold within a $15.75 to $19.00 range.

Two loads of prime steers brought the top of $29.25. Steers were mostly steady to 25 cents higher, as were heifers. Most good to low choice steers were taken at $20.50 to $23.50 with the bulk of good and choice heifers $19.50 to $24.00. Salable receipts totaled 15,000.

Cows were steady to weak. Good and choice vealers sold steady at $17.00 to $22.00.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 2,000. All classes held steady. Good to prime slaughter lambs were taken at $18.00 to $20.50 with several small lots of prime reaching $21.00.

BEANS MAKE SMALL GAIN ON SLOW MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans climbed a little higher on the Board of Trade Wednesday but the rest of the market just dragged along without showing much price change.

Buying in soybeans again was based on light cash bean receipts, totaling 60 cars, and unsettled weather over portions of the main producing belt. The latter was causing a temporary delay in harvesting.

Wheat closed ¼-⅞ lower, corn ½-⅝ lower, oats -½ higher, rye unchanged to ¾ higher, soybeans 1½ to 3 cents higher and lard 3 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The bulls in wheat were unable to stir up any interest in the bread cereal, although they had another potentially bullish item to point to: the continued drought in the southwestern Winter Wheat Belt.

In corn trade, talk largely centered more around the lower prices for this grain in the territory east of Chicago than in Chicago. Grain experts doubted there would be much pickup in shipping demand as long as this situation continued.

The sharp falling off in cash soybean receipts in the past two days was attributed to the fact that the heavy arrivals Monday and late last week were caused by the necessity to bring beans here for delivery on September futures contracts before the end of the month.

With that demand satisfied, receipts have fallen back to a more normal level, grain men said. However, the harvest is expanding and much doubt still exists as to the extent of producer selling.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK (AP)—

Stocks — Lower; trading indifferent.

Bonds — Mixed; railroads lower.

Cotton — Irregular; liquidation and hedging.

CHICAGO:

Wheat — Easy; mild hedging pressure.

Corn — Easy; trade light.

Oats — Firm on late rally.

Soybeans — Firm; cash bean receipts again light.

Hogs — Butchers down 50 to 75 cents; practical top $19.65.

Cattle — Steers steady to 25 cents higher; top $29.25.

EGG FUTURES LOWEST SINCE 1941

CHICAGO (AP) — All egg futures contracts declined to new lows since 1941 in active dealings on the Mercantile Exchange Wednesday. Final prices were down 45 to 65 points, October 27.10 cents a dozen.

Brokers attributed the weakness in part to renewed easiness in cash egg prices, heavy supplies of shell by the Army. Cash prices were unchanged to 2 cents a dozen lower, selling from 20 cents to 46 cents a dozen, depending upon grade.

STREET, AUTHOR OF 'TAP ROOTS', DIES

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Author James Street collapsed at a meeting here Tuesday night and died shortly afterward.

Street, who wrote "The Gauntlet," "Tap Roots," "Goodbye, My Lady," and other best-sellers, suffered a heart attack after presenting awards at a meeting of the North Carolina Association Press broadcasters.

He would have been 52 Oct. 15.

NEHRU ATTACKS SEATO

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today India will not become involved in a war unless she is specifically threatened. Opening a foreign affairs debate, he renewed his attacks on the Southeast Asia Defense Pact. He also again denounced U. S. opposition to the seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

To Exhibit Work Of Jacksonville Artists

The Art Association plans the 1954 Jacksonville Area Art Exhibit, to be given Oct. 20th through 27th at the Strawn Gallery. Works to be exhibited this year will consist of originals in the following catagories; oils and water colors; drawings and prints; ceramics and sculpture.

All artists of Jacksonville and surrounding communities are cordially invited to participate. Entries may be made in as many catagories as desired. However, not more than two works may be submitted in any catagory. Exhibitors will be charged an entry fee of $1.00 regardless of the number of catagories entered. All works entered must have been completed within the last two years.

Awards will be given for the most outstanding work in each catagory. All work will be judged by a prominent Illinois artist.

The Association will receive work to be exhibited at the Strawn Gallery on Thursday, Oct. 14, and Friday, Oct. 15, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.; on Saturday, Oct. 16, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Exhibitors may get entry blanks at any of the following places after Oct. 1.: Dalmae Art Studio, 108 North West Street; Miller's Paint and Wallpaper Co., 220 West State Street; Roger's School and Office Supply, 216 West State Street; Lane's Book Store, 225 West State Street. Entry blanks, with entry fee, are to be mailed to Howard Sidman, 852 East State street.

A preview exhibit will be given for exhibitors, members of the association, and prospective members on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. Awards will be announced at that time and refreshments will be served.

For further information concerning the exhibition the following persons may be consulted; Howard Sidman, Director of the exhibition, 852 East State Street; Mrs. Joseph Cleeland, Exhibition Chairman of the Art Association, 852 East State Street; Mrs. John Hackett, president of the Art Association, 17 Pitner Place.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN AGAINST CWV POST

BALTIMORE (AP)—Action will be taken against a Catholic War Veterans post which has identified itself with sponsors of a testimonial dinner for Roy M. Cohn, the CWV state commander announced Tuesday.

Anthony Azzarello said the St. Christopher post was acting contrary to a directive forbidding posts to participate.

The dinner for the former aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is scheduled for Oct. 5. McCarthy has been invited.

Life Sentence For Killing Pregnant Wife With Truck

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A young husband was convicted Tuesday night of murdering his pregnant wife, the mother of his two children, by running over her with a truck. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

W. N. Merida Jr., 23, contended his wife, Beatrice, 20, was killed accidentally when she fell from the truck and was crushed under a rear wheel.

The prosecution reconstructed the crime this way:

Merida pretended he had a flat tire, asked his wife to hold a flashlight for him, then hit her with a combination tire tool and jack handle. Then he ran over her body with his truck to make it appear she had died accidentally.

Merida admitted marital difficulties, including an arrest for child desertion.

News Story Brings Reunion Of Airman With Missing Dog

DENVER (AP)— If there was a happier airman at Lowry Air Force Base today, A1C. Erwin H. Thormahlen Jr. probably would like to meet him.

Thormahlen, from Lombard, Ill., was happy as only a young fellow can be who has been reunited with the beloved pet dog he had just about given up for lost.

The handsome young airman and his dog, Skoshee, finally got together again Tuesday after the Denver Post had run a story and a previous picture of the two.

It was the second time the two had been separated.

Thormahlen bought Skoshee, which he said is Korean for "small one," from a peddler in Seoul. When the airman returned to the United States, he was unable to bring the little dog with him so he sent him in care of a friend on another ship.

The friend fell ill aboard ship and Skoshee went for days without food and water in his crate. Later Thormahlen rescued his pet from a dog pound in San Francisco.

On Sept. 4 the dog disappeared here. The reunion of pet and master was arranged by Dr. J. R. Naylor, a veterinarian, who had seen the newspaper photo. He said Skoshee showed up at the door of his animal hospital last week and was given shelter.

Syrian Assassin's Plot Backfires

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syrian officials say a political plot to blow up former Premier Khalid El Adem backfired when the murder weapons—two hand grenades—exploded prematurely in the hired killer's pocket.

An official said the assassin, identified as Sharif Zerly, confessed before he died of his wounds that he had been hired by a National Party supporter. Both the man who hired Zerly and his son were reported under arrest.

Start Legal Battle Over Successor To McCarran

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A legal battle broke out Wednesday over the naming of a successor to Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran, even as members of the veteran lawmaker's family planned burial rites for Saturday.

State Democratic Chairman Keith Lee challenged Republican Gov. Charles Russell over whether he has the right to appoint a successor to fill the remaining two years of McCarran's fourth term in the Senate.

The senator suddenly collapsed and died Tuesday night minutes after he made a strong plea before a Hawthorne Democratic rally for unity in the state Democratic party.

Lee, insisting that Nevada law clearly provides that an election be held in November, called his State Central Committee to meet Friday and name a candidate.

Russell, meanwhile, asked Nevada's attorney general for a ruling. The governor's office said the law "appeared to be hazy and filled with Supreme Court decisions from past cases."

Legal advisors to the governor said privately, however, there was no legal provision for electing some one to fill McCarran's unexpired term. They said the governor's appointee would hold office until January 1957.

There was no question that the governor had the right to name a successor to serve until next January. But should the law require an election this November for McCarran's unexpired term the winner would replace the governor's appointee next January.

Issue New Warrant Charging Provoo With Treason

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell Wednesday announced a new warrant has been issued charging John David Provoo, former U. S. Army staff sergeant, with treason while he was a prisoner of war in the Far East during World War II.

The warrant was issued at Baltimore, Md., in line with a recent opinion of the New York Circuit Court of Appeals that Provoo was improperly tried and convicted of treason in the Federal District Court in New York City in February, 1953.

The Circuit Court reversed the conviction not only on grounds that Provoo was tried in the wrong district but that he was also improperly cross-examined by government attorneys.

The court based its ruling on a finding that Provoo was in military detention at Ft. Meade, Md., at the time that the decision was reached to prosecute him for treason. The court said in effect that when that decision was reached, Provoo was "found" at Ft. Meade and that the treason laws required his trial to be held in that federal court district.

The former staff sergeant, now 36 and a native of San Francisco, was alleged to have assumed the costume of a Buddhist priest while a prisoner of the Japanese and to have offered his services to the enemy in wartime, while attempting to persuade fellow prisoners to give information to their captors.

DIRKSEN DEFENDS McCARTHY TECHNIQUE

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) Wednesday defended the actions of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), declaring that "no other technique" would have alerted the country to the threat of Communism.

Dirksen told 250 Republican women at the fall conference of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Organizations that as a member of the McCarthy Subcommittee he has examined hearings records often.

"To the everlasting credit of Joe McCarthy I don't know of any one man who would stand the constant harassment—I wouldn't—of these people with interests in a different kind of America than what he wants," Dirksen said.

"To question after question these interests would refuse to answer on the grounds that it would incriminate them. That is frustrating business. It is easy for a temper to be touched off."

GABLE'S HEALTH EXCELLENT

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clark Gable's doctor said Wednesday the actor is in "excellent health" and has left Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after one of his periodic checkups.

Dr. Rexford Kennamer said Gable was just having a checkup. He said the actor left the hospital a couple of days ago.

Equalizer Failure Blamed For Train Wreck At Lomax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday blamed the failure of an "equalizer" for the train derailment at Lomax, Ill., which killed four persons and injured 49.

The derailment occurred Aug. 22. The Chicago-to-Los Angeles Santa Fe Chief was then moving 89 miles an hour over a stretch where 90-mile speeds are permissible.

An equalizer is a part of the spring suspension assembly of the six-wheel trucks used on such trains. Its function is to keep the weight of the car evenly distributed among the wheels.

The ICC investigator said examination of the equipment showed a failure of the rear equalizer on the second car of the train.

ACTOR FACES KNIFE POSSESSION CHARGE

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Scotty Beckett, 24, faces a hearing today on a felony knife possession charge.

The onetime "Our Gang" comedy player surrendered Tuesday on a warrant issued last March 29. He said he had spent the intervening time in jail in Mexico on a bad check charge.

Beckett originally was charged here with robbery and possession of a dagger last Feb. 25 when the manager of a Westwood hotel reported theft of $137. The robbery charge was dismissed Tuesday.

Dusty Rhodes' Homer Gives Giants Series Victory

'Just Trying For A Hit': Dusty Rhodes

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes, mighty New York Giant pinch hitter whose home run in the 10th inning, won the opening game of the 1954 World Series, confessed after the game Wednesday it was an accident of sorts.

"I wasn't trying for a home run," he said. "I was just trying for a hit."

But what a hit—a decisive three-run homer!

"It was the best hit I ever got in my life," he laughed.

"Were you worried going up there as a pinch hitter?" a reporter asked.

"Nope," he said flatly. "The pitcher is the guy who worries. He's got to get me out."

Rhodes' homer was on a curve thrown by Bob Lemon, the Cleveland Indian ace.

Manager Leo Durocher of the victorious Giants, after praising Rhodes and Willie Mays, heaped his affection on his pitchers.

"It was great relief pitching," he said. "I got just what I wanted."

His relliefers were Don Liddle and Marv Grissom.

Liddle, as a matter of fact pitched only to one batter. The scene was this:

Sal Maglie, the crafty 37-year-old Giant starter, had weakened in the eighth he walked Larry Doby to open the inning. Then Al Rosen singled. Up came Vic Wertz. The big first baseman of the Indians already had a triple and two singles to his credit, and was destined to get a double in the 10th.

So Durocher waved in Liddle and Maglie made the long, slow walk to the Giant clubhouse.

Wertz smashed a drive straight to center that would have been a home run in almost any other major league park.

Willie Mays tufned his back to the diamond and ran as hard as he could. At the very wall, 450 feet from the plate, with his back still to the playing field, Mays made a catch that looked impossible.

Durocher said under no circumstances would he have allowed Liddle to pitch to the next batter, Dave Philley, who is a switch hitter.

In fact, at this point came some super master minding. Manager Al Lopez sent up Hank Majeski, a righthanded hitter, in place of Philley. Durocher lifted Liddle, a southpaw and sent in Grissom, a righthander. So Lopez didn't let Majeski bat but replaced him with Dale Mitchell, a lefthanded hitter. Grissom walked him, but Dave Pope, batting for George Strickland, was retired on strikes, and catcher Jim Hegan ended the inning by flying out.

Durocher was a happy manager after the game, but not a boastful or elated one. Explaining he was superstitious, he asked photographers to leave him alone which they didn't "and take the players instead."

"That catch of Mays—it was great. The wind was blowing, he had his back to the diamond, and I don't know (sic) if he can do it."

But he added:

"I've seen Willie catch so many nothing, he does now ever fazes me."

World Series Notes

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you describe a Chinese home run in Spanish?

Dusty Rhodes' hump-backed blow in the 10th inning, giving the New York Giants the first game over Cleveland 5-2, offered this complication Wednesday when the World Series was beamed around the world in almost every language.

It was broadcast in English, French and Spanish and televised to every state in the Union.

A motherly looking, grey haired woman wearing a huge orchid beamed at "her Giants" from a dignitaries' box behind the New York dugout.

Mrs. John McGraw was starting her 15th World Series.

"I've been here every time the Giants played in a series since 1905," she said. "I come to the games at least three times a week, just as I did when Mr. McGraw was here."

McGraw, who died in 1934, managed the Giants from 1902 to 1932.

Her prediction for the series?

"There's only one team, of course," she replied.

Customers arriving at the Polo Grounds had a newspaper thrust in their hands with the comment: "Take it—it's free."

It was a special edition of the Phoenix Ariz. Gazette flown here especially for the opening game. The paper carried the streamer: "PHOENIX CHEERS GIANTS IN SERIES."

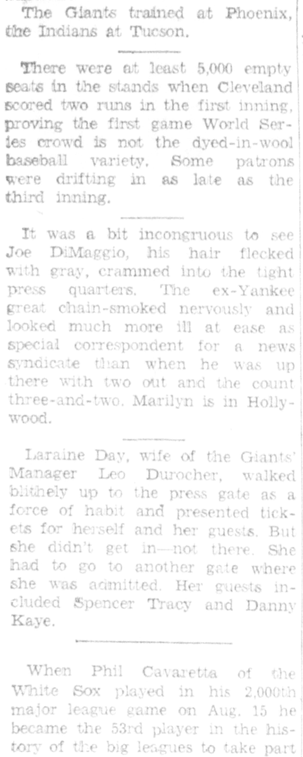

The Giants trained at Phoenix, the Indians at Tucson.

There were at least 5,000 empty seats in the stands when Cleveland scored two runs in the first inning, proving the first game World Series crowd is not the dyed-in-wool baseball variety. Some patrons were drifting in as late as the third inning.

It was a bit incongruous to see Joe DiMaggio, his hair flecked with gray, crammed into the tight press quarters. The ex-Yankee great chain-smoked nervously and looked much more ill at ease as special correspondent for a news syndicate than when he was up there with two out and the count three-and-two. Marilyn is in Hollywood.

Laraine Day, wife of the Giants' Manager Leo Durocher, walked blithely up to the press gate as a force of habit and presented tickets for herself and her guests. But she didn't get in—not there. She had to go to another gate where she was admitted. Her guests included Spencer Tracy and Danny Kaye.

When Phil Cavaretta of the White Sox played in his 2,000th major league game on Aug. 15 he became the 53rd player in the history of the big leagues to take part in that many contests.

Stanford Poses Defensive Problem For Illini: Agase

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Sept. 29—Stanford's Indians, 18-13 victors over highly-regarded Oregon last Saturday night, pose a tremendous defensive problem for Illinois this week. That's the opinion of line coach Lou Agase, who scouted the west coast team in its first two games this season.

"Stanford Coach Chuck Taylor has come up with a great young quarterback in John Brodie, a sophomore who started and finished both games," Agase said. "They aren't going to miss Bobby Garrett at all."

Agase had nothing but praise for the Indians. "A big, aggressive line, fast halfbacks, a hard-running fullback and an excellent passing attack give Stanford a well-balanced offense," he said.

Brodie's favorite receiver is John Stewart, Stanford left end, whom Agase rates among the finest pass catchers he has seen in several years.

In the Stanford backfield with Brodie are two fine young halfbacks, sophomore Gerdy Young and junior Ernie Dorn. Young is a great prospect in Agase's opinion and Dorn, son of a former Illinois baseball and basketball star, is well known to Illinois fans for his fine running in Memorial Stadium last season. At fullback for the Indians is Bill Tarr, 5-10, 190-pounder whose powerful thrusts up the middle plagued Oregon throughout the game Saturday night.

"Key players in the Indian line are two fine tackles," Agase said. "Not only are they big, but they move well. They are veterans Win Wedge, 5-10, 205 pounds, and Paul Wiggin, 6-3, 225 pounds."

Coach Bob Kraushaar sent his Jacksonville Crimsons through passing and pass defense drills yesterday getting ready for Carlinville tomorrow night. As Coach Bob put it, "we expect Carlinville to go to the air and we want to be ready for them."

—o—

Freshmen coaches Blazier and Gierke saw the Carlinville-Virden game last Friday night which Virden won by one touchdown. However they reported the game could have very easily gone the other way.

—o—

Coach Kraushaar has shuffled his lineup in his attempt to find a suitable pass protection defense. This moving around has resulted in the moving of a half back to a defense end post and the two ends to tackles. Larry Scott, a half back on offense, will play end on defense in Friday's game. The two regular ends, Hudson and Knight will be moved to tackles when the other team has the ball.

—o—

A regular tackle, Marquard, will join Woodward at a guard spot on defense and move back to his tackle position on offense. The other end will be filled by either Samples or Rexroat. Prather, who has a sprained ankle, and Max Roegge will back up the line. Skip Dyer and Jack Fairfield will play defensive half and Bill Lewis will be at safety.

—o—

The offensive line will have a couple of changes also. Jim Woodward, normally a guard, will be at tackle on offense and his guard spot will be filled by Prather. Hudson and Knight will be at ends with Hill at the other guard and Marquard joining Woody at the other tackle. Halfback Kent Dawson has a bad hip and has been out the past two days. This leaves the running attack to Dyer, Trier, Fairfield and Scott.

—o—

Coach Bob wasn't too well pleased with his squad after yesterday's workouts. He wasn't satisfied with the protection given to passers and admits his line will have to get tougher. We feel the Crimsons have their two "bad" games out of the way and will get rolling tomorrow night. Can't think of a better time to get started.

—o—

From the University comes word that Max Hooper, basketball and baseball star the past three years, has been named acting freshman basketball coach for the Illini. Director of athletics Doug Mills announced the Mt. Vernon product will serve pending assignment by the Air Force in which he is a reserve.

—o—

Illinois' Homecoming game with Wisconsin in Memorial Stadium November 13 is a complete sellout according to George Legg the ticket manager. This means a capacity crowd of 71,119 will witness the 44th annual home coming celebration. Tickets for the Ohio State game are moving fast and another sellout is anticipated for this clash.

Vonnie Colby Cops Medalist Honors With 77

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Vonnie Colby of Hollywood, Fla. won medalist honors Tuesday in the Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament with a 77, one over women's par.

The Florida girl edged favorite Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, former national women's amateur champion, by a stroke. Tying Miss Faulk for runnerup were Minnie Lee Ashley of Gadsden, Ala., Joan Prentice of Birmingham and Marj Burns of Greensboro, N. C.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, cofavorite with Miss Faulk, shot a disappointing 80 on the Glen Arven Country Club course. Two other stars, Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., and Mary Ann Villegas of New Orleans, had 80 and 79 respectively.

Defending champion Edean Anderson Ihlanfeldt of Seattle made the championship flight of 32 with an 82.

First round pairings with qualifying scores (championship flight) include Mrs. Marjorie Lindsay McMillen, Decatur, Ill. (81) vs. Mrs. Pearson Mencher, Southern Pines, N.C. (95); Janice Phelps, Atlanta, (85) vs. Shirley Lindsay, Decatur, Ill. (95); Mrs. Georgia Willcox, Miami, Fla. (87) vs. Ruth Tenk, Quincy, Ill. (97).

COACH COMES HOME

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Blanton Collier is home at last.

The new football coach at the University of Kentucky and a native of this state says: "Coaching at my home state university is something I always had in the back of my mind. It was my ultimate ambition."

Collier became widely recognized in football as the assistant to Paul Brown, head mentor of the Cleveland Browns in the pro ranks.

Scribe Picks Illini, Notre Dame To Win

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Now, you take Illinois and Michigan State. The Swami did last week and fumbled twice in his first round of Midwest football predictions. Here's round No. 2:

Notre Dame 21, Purdue 13—The Irish still have to prove they can move on the ground, but they controlled the air lanes—offensively and defensively—against Texas.... Purdue's best weapon is the passing of soph quarterback Len Dawson, who pitched four touchdown shots against Missouri.....The Boilermakers could upset, especially with the Irish subsided from their "winning the opener for Terry" fever.

Wisconsin 19, Michigan State 14—Michigan State may have the ponies, but Wisconsin has The Horse, fullback Alan Ameche....Badger passing this season may be phenomenal with the twin sharpshooting duo of Jim Miller and Jim Haluska ....The Spartans ran out of gas against Iowa, while Wisconsin was just beginning to roll as the game ended against routed Marquette.... MSC has to win to stay in the Big Ten race.

Ohio State 21, California 13—The Buckeyes quietly seem to be preparing to cut a mean caper in the Big Ten chase.....Pappy Waldorf, former Northwestern coach, returns to Big Ten territory with a good California team.

Illinois 14, Stanford 7—That's if the Illini learned to block and tackle during the week.....The speed of J. C. Caroline and Abe Woodson can't be bottled up two successive Saturdays.....Penn State may have provided the spark the Illini needed to burn their pressclippings.

Minnesota 18, Pittsburgh 14—Pitt played impressively in losing to Southern California 27-7, but Minnesota's Gophers got the confidence they needed in downing Nebraska 19-7.

Iowa 28, Montana 7—The Hawkeyes should enjoy this breather after tumbling Michigan State.

Michigan 28, Army 14—If South Carolina can man-handle Army, so can the Wolverines.

Indiana 19, College of Pacific 13—The Hoosiers will have to hustle against a COP team which was shaded only 13-12 by Stanford two weeks ago.

Southern California 21, Northwestern 7—Trojan speed should bag the Wildcats, who had plenty of trouble with Iowa State.

Colored Action Shot Transmitted By AP Wirephoto

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press Wirephoto system Wednesday night transmitted in color one of the top action pictures of the first 1954 World Series game. It was the first time World Series picture copy in color had been sent on a spot basis by Wirephoto.

Three color separation prints were sent to 18 newspapers—from Maine to California and from Washington State to Florida—which participated in the special project.

The color shot showed Vic Wertz, Cleveland Indians' hard-hitting first baseman, sliding into third base on his triple.

Football Briefs

Regular left half has been senior Joe Heap. The starting backfield for the scrimmage also included Ralph Guglielmi at quarterback, sophomore Jim Morse at right half; and Don Schaefer at fullback.

Paul Reynolds, like Fitzgerald an injury-jinxed back, is unlikely to see action against Purdue Saturday although he played 15 minutes in Notre Dame's 21-0 victory over Texas.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Fullback Mickey Bates may switch back to his old right halfmack post for Illinois' game at Stanford Saturday.

With sophomore Abe Woodson, right half starter against Penn State, sidelined by an injured ankle, Bates has been working part time at that position.

If Bates plays right half, the fullback spot will be filled by Bob Wiman. The Illini will leave by chartered plane for the West Coast Thursday.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Fullback Bob Lauter and quarterback John Reardon were back in action at Northwestern Wednesday after being sidelined two days with influenze.

Tackle John Smith, also ill, suited up but did not scrimmage with the rest. Another with the same ailment, second - string fullback Wayne Glassman, may not be recovered sufficiently to play in Saturday's game against Southernn California.

Also questionable for the game is sophomore end Jack Stillwell, who is nursing a sprained elbow. Center John Damore has a knee injury but is expected to be ready.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Defense was the main course for Wisconsin's gridders Wednesday as they went through their last tough workout before Saturday's game with Michigan State at East Lansing.

In hot muggy weather the Badger reserves ran Sparton plays at the varsity for more than an hour. Then the team switched to a review of line blocking assignments and a rehearsal of plays.

SOUTHPAW SENSATION

BROOKLYN (AP)—Fresco Thompson, farm director of the Brooklyn Dodgers, likes to talk about the current sensation of his minor league crop. It's a 23-year old southpaw hurler named Karl Spooner.

Playing for Fort Worth in the Texas League, Spooner has won over 20 games and has fanned over 250 batters. In one game he struck out 15.

Karl Spooner, southpaw who joined the Brooklyn Dodgers at the end of this season, led the Texas League in strikeouts with 262. He won 29 games and lost nine for the Fort Worth Cats.

'Longest Out, Shortest Homer Of Season Beat Us' Relates Manger Lopaz

By FRITZ HOWELL

NEW YORK (AP)—"The longest out and the shortest home run of the season beat us, that's all!"

That's how Senor Al Lopez, Cleveland's smiling-in-defeat manager, summed up Wednesday's opening World Series victory by the New York Giants over his American League champions.

He referred to the sensational catch by Giant centerfielder Willie Mays of a screaming 450-foot drive off the bat of Vic Wertz, and the climactic 270-foot homer with pinchhitter Dusty Rhodes ended the game in the 10th.

The Indians had two aboard, the score was tied at 2-2. Wertz blasted a 2-1 pitch deep into centerfield, but Mays turned his back to the plate, almost crashed into the wall while making the catch, fell to the ground, and threw on the fly to second base to keep everyone away from the plate.

Of Rhodes' home run, Lopez said:

"I though it was just a routine out when it left the bat. Dave Pope said he thought he had the ball all the way, but the wind caught it. But it was a home run, and there's no defense against home runs."

Bob Lemon, who pitched all the way, had little to say about the homer.

"That's the way it goes," he said "but I'll have to admit it's tough to lose on a hit like that one. I thought it was just another out, and all at once the game's over."

"We had a couple of chances to win the game in nine innings," Lopez said, "but it just didn't work out. In the eighth with the bases loaded and one out Pope looked at a third strike.

"And in the sixth when Wertz led off with his single and Mueller threw wildly trying to pick him off first Vic could have reached third instead of second, but for an unfortunate thing.

"He wears a protective shin guard on his right leg, and as he started for second after the ball got away from the first baseman and the catcher, the guard broke loose and stopped him. It's the first time the guard has ever hampered him.

Wertz, who had a four-for-five day to lead the hitters with a triple, two singles and a double, was more upset by the shin guard incident than he was elated by his batting.

"I've worn that thing all season," he said, "and I have my first trouble with it in the World Series."

In the rough third inning, when the Giants combed Lemon for three hits and two runs, Lopez walked out to talk with his pitcher and then had a chat with Umpire Al Barlick behind the plate.

Asked if he had protested something to the umpire, or had given any instructions to Lemon, Lopez said:

"Neither one. I just asked Lemon how he was feeling. He said he was okay. On the way back to the bench, I stopped and asked Barlick how he was feeling. He said he was 'Swell.'"

Later Lemon said Lopez had mentioned he was pitching pretty fast with men on bases, and to slow down a little.

Virginia Invades Routt At 8:00

The strong Virginia Redbirds of the PMBC Conference invade Jacksonville tonight for a 8:00 battle with the Routt Rockets in a conference game.

The host Routt team enters its third game of the season with a 1-0-1 record. The Rockets whipped Meredosia 20-0 in the season's opener and played Chapin to a 20-20 tie last Friday night.

The Virginia club has enjoyed a very successful season thus far. They have rolled up identical scores of 39-6 against Meredosia and Chapin.

Coach Jim Smarjesse plans to keep the same starting lineup. George Dee, a junior, has reported for practice and will be eligible for next week's game with Arenzville.

Other games will find Arenzville at Chandlerville in a PMBC Conference game and Macomb at Beardstown.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a beautiful summer day at the Polo Grounds but the Indians, despite some heroic pitching by Bob Lemon and some heroic hitting by Vic Wertz, didn't enjoy it.

It was confirmed by now, that they lost the first game of the World Series to the Giant's 5-2 with Duty Rhodes' two-bit, wind-blown pinch home run in the 10th inning the clincher, a blow that classifies Leo Durocher as a double-domed genius.

Before the game the dapper little manager had explained his reason for starting Monte Irvin instead of Rhodes thusly:

"I want to have Rhodes on the bench to use as a pinch hitter if I need him."

That seemed a little hard to follow as Rhodes would be up only once instead of four or five times, but it turned out once was enough, and how Durocher knew it would be enough is his secret.

It really was two ball games in one that balmy Wednesday afternoon, the doubleheader effect arising from the fact that for about seven innings the game went along in rather routine fashion despite the tie score, then erupted into a series of pulse-stopping moments which must at times have been excruciating to Giant fans in the crowd.

The New Yorkers were in more holes than a coal miner, but always climbed out, begrimed but defiant.

They were saved oftener than Little Nell, with the most thrilling rescue of all the slightly impossible catch by Willie May of Vic Wertz's tremendous drive almost to dead center.

That feat came in the eighth inning with two Indians on base and none down, and preceded some powerful master minding by Al Lopez and the already mentioned genius, Durocher.

Sal Maglie had been leaving Indians pining away on the bases in practically every inning. He had been relieved by Don Liddle when Wertz made a hero out of Hays, but when Hank Majeski was announced as a pinch hitter for Dave Philley, Durocher yanked Liddle in favor of Marv Grissom.

Brains were whirling all over the place by this time, and as soon as Grissom trudged in from the bullpen, Lopez withdrew Majeski and sent up Dale Mitchell to hit. Mitchell walked, but the Giants staggered through the inning without getting hurt.

Some of the Giant troubles were of their own making. In the sixth, for instance, Wertz opened with a routine single to right. Don Mueller threw to first hoping to catch him returning to the base. That is, he threw in the general direction of first. The ball passed far to the foul side of the bag, and found an open pasture.

Wes Westrum, the Giant catcher, was thoroughly adjusting his shin guards at homeplate, and before he could retriece the ball, Wertz was on second, and might have made third if he wasn't Wertz. Anyway, Maglie got out of that mess too, thanks to a fine play by third baseman Hank Thompson on Jim Hegan's sizzler.

Al Andrews KO's Gil Turner In 3rd

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Andrews, an 8-5 underdog, from Superior, Wis., landed a sledgehammer right at the outset of the third round to knock out seasoned Gil Turner in a surprising upset at the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Each fighter weighed 154½ for their scheduled 10-round return match. Turner had scored a close victory over Andrews at the Stadium Aug. 18.

Andrews rushed across the ring at the start of the third round and swung an overhand right to the jaw which felled the Philadelphia Negro as if he was stoned.

The time was 12 seconds of the third, but it was several minutes before Turner, laying flat on his back, could be revived.

The referee and both judges had Andrews ahead, 20 points to 18, after the first two rounds, giving him an edge in each stanza.

Dusty's Pinch Blast In 10th, Mays Great Catch Spark 5-2 Win

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes' 270-foot pinch home run with two men on base in the 10th inning won a dramatic World Series opener for the New York Giants Wednesday, 5-2, after a terrific catch by Willie Mays and a tremendous relief pitching by Marv Grissom blunted Cleveland threats.

Rhodes, a sensational pinch hitter in the Giants' pennant march, barely reached the right field stands as he swung on Bob Lemon's first pitch. The ball sailed over the head of leaping Dave Pope and just made it into the lower stands, bouncing off the hands of a fan and rolling back onto the field as the umpire signaled home run.

Cleveland had been threatening all through the late innings, leaving 13 men on the bases the entire game while Grissom escaped by the thinnest of margins.

In the Giant 10th, after Don Mueller struck out, Mays worked Lemon for a walk. As Lemon threw a ball to the next hitter, Hank Thompson, Mays lit out for second, sliding in under the bouncing peg of Mickey Grasso who had just taken up Cleveland's catching chores.

With Mays on second, Manager Al Lopez ordered Lemon to pass Thompson intentionally, setting the stage for a possible double play. Rhodes, who delivered 15 pinch hits in 45 trips during the regular season, crossed him up.

It was the same Mr. Rhodes who Manager Leo Durocher was going to start in left field before he finally decided to stick with the veteran Monte Irvin.

The throat-clutching finish, however, didn't dim the lustre of Mays' magnificient catch on Vic Wertz' 450-foot smash to deep center in the eighth. If Willie, the Giants' bubbling "Say Hey Kid" hadn't caught that one with two men on and nobody out, there never would have been any chance for Rhodes' heroics.

Wertz already had three hits, including a two-run triple off Sal Maglie in the first inning, when he came to bat in the eighth, with the score tied at 2-2. Larry Doby had walked and Al Rosen had singled.

The baldish first baseman, picked up from Baltimore early in June, slammed reliefer Don Liddle's fourth pitch far to deep center. Mays took one sight on the ball, turned his back and raced pell mell toward the four-foot wall in front of the bleachers. Just when it seemed the exuberant Negro lad must smash into the wall, he put out his hands to grab the ball without a look toward the plate.

Until he grabbed Wertz, bid for a sure double, Mays had been well on the way to being a bust in this first game. He hadn't hit the ball out of the infield and had managed only a walk.

But in the end it was Mays' catch and his steal of second that set things up for Rhodes to win it all with the fourth pinch homer in series history. Only Yogi Berra in 1947, Johnny Mize in 1952 and George Shuba in 1953 had done it before.

Just as Mays and Rhodes shared the final honors, it was old tomato-faced Grissom, a 36-year-old American League refugee, who held the fort through the perils of the eighth, ninth and tenth.

Cleveland had the bases full with one out in the eighth as Grissom struck out pinch hitter Dave Pope and retired Jim Hegan on a fly ball. In the ninth, the Tribe had men on first and second with two out when Monte Irvin dropped a fly ball and Larry Doby was walked intentionally. Once again marvelous Marv came through, getting Rosen on an inning-ending fly.

In the first of the 10th, the Tribe still was at it. Wertz opened with a double to left center that might have been a triple by a faster man. It was his fourth hit, tying a series mark held by several players.

Sam Dente's sacrifice shoved pinch runner Rudy Regaldo to third and Pope was walked intentionally. There was Grissom, with Indians on first and third and only one gone. He curled a curve past pinch hitter Bill Glynn for a strikeout and escaped once more when Lemon, who went all the way for the losers, lined out to first baseman Whitey Lockman.

In the last three innings, Grissom left seven Cleveland runners on base. It began to look as though he'd have to go on doing that all night, for the Giants had only one hit—a single by Don Mueller in the seventh—from the fourth to the tenth. The end to this double-ulcer thriller came with the same quick flash that Bobby Thomson won the famous playoff with Brooklyn in 1951. Thomson's hit was to left and Rhodes to right, one of the shortest home runs ever hit in any series.

The bumper crowd of 52,751 paid a net $316,957.25.

SOUNDS SIMPLE FROM A GIRL

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A girl watching an outboard race on the Connecticut River remarked: "my boy friend's got a hog in his boat; he hit a sleeper and dug in."

To an inquiring reporter she gave this translation: Hog, a buckling in the planks. Sleeper, an unexpected wave. Dig in, bow plowing into the water instead of riding above it.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Buyers picked a handful of favorites Wednesday and bid prices up, but the market as a whole closed lower in a quiet manner.

Some of the best gains were scored by motors while others were found in oils, business equipments, textiles and farm implements.

Railroads were depressed throughout the session. Other divisions were mixed to lower.

The World Series opening game had a dampening effect on business. Many brokers and their customers went to the game or paid more attention to the radio and television versions than they did to securities.

Trading opened with a rush and then subsided.

Prices moved narrowly for the most part with maximum changes running to around three points either way.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 70 cents at $136.30. It was up 10 cents Tuesday at the 25-year peak established the previous Friday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with a lower tendency. Volume amounted to 630,000 shares as compared with 580,000 shares traded Tuesday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Medium grade railroads tipped the bond market downward Wednesday in slow trading.

"Big Board" volume eased to $2,630,000 par value from $2,662,000 Tuesday as a plentiful supply of bonds of the more speculative type carriers depressed the corporate list. Utilities and industrials were fairly steady, traded on a highly selective basis.

U. S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

An investment banking group headed by First National Bank of Chicago captured 7,030,000 Macon County, Ill., Decatur school bonds in competitive bidding. Net interest cost for 1955-73 maturities was 1.941 per cent. The tax-exempts were reoffered priced to yield from .75 to 2.10 per cent.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—The top price on hogs sank to the lowest level since February 1953 while prime steers brought their best price since May in the livestock market Wednesday.

Butcher hogs fell 50 to 75 cents while sows lost 25 cents, as 9,500 salable head turned up at the yards, 1,500 more than expected. Practical top was $19.65, although a part load reached $19.75.

Some 160 to 180-pound butchers were taken at $18.00 to $19.00. Sows sold within a $15.75 to $19.00 range.

Two loads of prime steers brought the top of $29.25. Steers were mostly steady to 25 cents higher, as were heifers. Most good to low choice steers were taken at $20.50 to $23.50 with the bulk of good and choice heifers $19.50 to $24.00. Salable receipts totaled 15,000.

Cows were steady to weak. Good and choice vealers sold steady at $17.00 to $22.00.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 2,000. All classes held steady: Good to prime slaughter lambs were taken at $18.00 to $20.50 with several small lots of prime reaching $21.00.

BEANS MAKE SMALL GAIN ON SLOW MARKET

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans climbed a little higher on the Board of Trade Wednesday but the rest of the market just dragged along without showing much price change.

Buying in soybeans again was based on light cash bean receipts, totaling 60 cars, and unsettled weather over portions of the main producing belt. The latter was causing a temporary delay in harvesting.

Wheat closed ¼-⅞ lower, corn ½-⅝ lower, oats -½ higher, rye unchanged to ¾ higher, soybeans 1½ to 3 cents higher and lard 3 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The bulls in wheat were unable to stir up any interest in the bread cereal, although they had another potentially bullish item to point to: the continued drought in the southwestern Winter Wheat Belt.

In corn trade, talk largely centered more around the lower prices for this grain in the territory east of Chicago than in Chicago. Grain experts doubted there would be much pickup in shipping demand as long as this situation continued.

The sharp falling off in cash soybean receipts in the past two days was attributed to the fact that the heavy arrivals Monday and late last week were caused by the necessity to bring beans here for delivery on September futures contracts before the end of the month.

With that demand satisfied, receipts have fallen back to a more normal level, grain men said. However, the harvest is expanding and much doubt still exists as to the extent of producer selling.

Cattle — Steers steady to 25 cents higher; top $29.25.

EGG FUTURES LOWEST SINCE 1941

CHICAGO (AP) — All egg futures contracts declined to new lows since 1941 in active dealings on the Mercantile Exchange Wednesday. Final prices were down 45 to 65 points, October 27.10 cents a dozen.

Brokers attributed the weakness in part to renewed easiness in cash egg prices, heavy supplies of shell by the Army. Cash prices were unchanged to 2 cents a dozen lower, selling from 20 cents to 46 cents a dozen, depending upon grade.

STREET, AUTHOR OF 'TAP ROOTS', DIES

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Author James Street collapsed at a meeting here Tuesday night and died shortly afterward.

Street, who wrote "The Gauntlet," "Tap Roots," "Goodbye, My Lady," and other best-sellers, suffered a heart attack after presenting awards at a meeting of the North Carolina Association Press broadcasters.

He would have been 52 Oct. 15.

NEHRU ATTACKS SEATO

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today India will not become involved in a war unless she is specifically threatened. Opening a foreign affairs debate, he renewed his attacks on the Southeast Asia Defense Pact. He also again denounced U. S. opposition to the seating of Communist China in the United Nations.

To Exhibit Work Of Jacksonville Artists

The Art Association plans the 1954 Jacksonville Area Art Exhibit, to be given Oct. 20th through 27th at the Strawn Gallery. Works to be exibited this year will consist of originals in the following catagories; oils and water colors; drawings and prints; ceramics and sculpture.

All artists of Jacksonville and surrounding communities are cordially invited to participate. Entries may be made in as many catagories as desired. However, not more than two works may be submitted in any catagory. Exhibitors will be charged an entry fee of $1.00 regardless of the number of catagories entered. All works entered must have been completed within the last two years.

Awards will be given for the most outstanding work in each catagory. All work will be judged by a prominent Illinois artist.

The Association will receive work to be exhibited at the Strawn Gallery on Thursday, Oct. 14, and Friday, Oct. 15, from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.; on Saturday, Oct. 16, from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Exhibitors may get entry blanks at any of the following places after Oct. 1.: Dalmae Art Studio, 108 North West Street; Miller's Paint and Wallpaper Co., 220 West State Street; Roger's School and Office Supply, 216 West State Street; Lane's Book Store, 225 West State Street. Entry blanks, with entry fee, are to be mailed to Howard Sidman, 852 East State street.

A preview exhibit will be given for exhibitors, members of the association, and prospective members on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19. Awards will be announced at that time and refreshments will be served.

For further information concerning the exhibition the following persons may be consulted; Howard Sidman, Director of the exibition, 852 East State Street; Mrs. Joseph Cleeland, Exibition Chairman of the Art Association, 852 East State Street; Mrs. John Hackett, president of the Art Association, 17 Pitner Place.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN AGAINST CWV POST

BALTIMORE (AP)—Action will be taken against a Catholic War Veterans post which has identified itself with sponsors of a testimonial dinner for Roy M. Cohn, the CWV state commander announced Tuesday.

Anthony Azzarello said the St. Christopher post was acting contrary to a directive forbidding posts to participate.

The dinner for the former aide to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy is scheduled for Oct. 5. McCarthy has been invited.

Life Sentence For Killing Pregnant Wife With Truck

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A young husband was convicted Tuesday night of murdering his pregnant wife, the mother of his two children, by running over her with a truck. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

W. N. Merida Jr., 23, contended his wife, Beatrice, 20, was killed accidentally when she fell from the truck and was crushed under a rear wheel.

The prosecution reconstructed the crime this way:

Merida pretended he had a flat tire, asked his wife to hold a flashlight for him, then hit her with a combination tire tool and jack handle. Then he ran over her body with his truck to make it appear she had died accidentally.

Merida admitted marital difficulties, including an arrest for child desertion.

News Story Brings Reunion Of Airman With Missing Dog

DENVER (AP)— If there was a happier airman at Lowry Air Force Base today, A1C. Erwin H. Thormahlen Jr. probably would like to meet him.

Thormahlen, from Lombard, Ill., was happy as only a young fellow can be who has been reunited with the beloved pet dog he had just about given up for lost.

The handsome young airman and his dog, Skoshee, finally got together again Tuesday after the Denver Post had run a story and a previous picture of the two.

It was the second time the two had been separated.

Thormahlen bought Skoshee, which he said is Korean for "small one," from a peddler in Seoul. When the airman returned to the United States, he was unable to bring the little dog with him so he sent him in care of a friend on another ship.

The friend fell ill aboard ship and Skoshee went for days without food and water in his crate. Later Thormahlen rescued his pet from a dog pound in San Francisco.

On Sept. 4 the dog disappeared here. The reunion of pet and master was arranged by Dr. J. R. Naylor, a veterinarian, who had seen the newspaper photo. He said Skoshee showed up at the door of his animal hospital last week and was given shelter.

Syrian Assassin's Plot Backfires

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syrian officials say a political plot to blow up former Premier Khalid El Adem backfired when the murder weapons—two hand grenades—exploded prematurely in the hired killer's pocket.

An official said the assassin, identified as Sharif Zerly, confessed before he died of his wounds that he had been hired by a National Party supporter. Both the man who hired Zerly and his son were reported under arrest.

Start Legal Battle Over Successor To McCarran

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A legal battle broke out Wednesday over the naming of a successor to Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran, even as members of the veteran lawmaker's family planned burial rites for Saturday.

State Democratic Chairman Keith Lee challenged Republican Gov. Charles Russell over whether he has the right to appoint a successor to fill the remaining two years of McCarran's fourth term in the Senate.

The senator suddenly collapsed and died Tuesday night minutes after he made a strong plea before a Hawthorne Democratic rally for unity in the state Democratic party.

Lee, insisting that Nevada law clearly provides that an election be held in November, called his State Central Committee to meet Friday and name a candidate.

Russell, meanwhile, asked Nevada's attorney general for a ruling. The governor's office said the law "appeared to be hazy and filled with Supreme Court decisions from past cases."

Legal advisors to the governor said privately, however, there was no legal provision for electing some one to fill McCarran's unexpired term. They said the governor's appointee would hold office until January 1957.

There was no question that the governor had the right to name a successor to serve until next January. But should the law require an election this November for McCarran's unexpired term the winner would replace the governor's appointee next January.

Issue New Warrant Charging Provoo With Treason

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell Wednesday announced a new warrant has been issued charging John David Provoo, former U. S. Army staff sergeant, with treason while he was a prisoner of war in the Far East during World War II.

The warrant was issued at Baltimore, Md., in line with a recent opinion of the New York Circuit Court of Appeals that Provoo was improperly tried and convicted of treason in the Federal District Court in New York City in February, 1953.

The Circuit Court reversed the conviction not only on grounds that Provoo was tried in the wrong district but that he was also improperly cross-examined by government attorneys.

The court based its ruling on a finding that Provoo was in military detention at Ft. Meade, Md., at the time that the decision was reached to prosecute him for treason. The court said in effect that when that decision was reached, Provoo was "found" at Ft. Meade and that the treason laws required his trial to be held in that federal court district.

The former staff sergeant, now 36 and a native of San Francisco, was alleged to have assumed the costume of a Buddhist priest while a prisoner of the Japanese and to have offered his services to the enemy in wartime, while attempting to persuade fellow prisoners to give information to their captors.

DIRKSEN DEFENDS McCARTHY TECHNIQUE

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) Wednesday defended the actions of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), declaring that "no other technique" would have alerted the country to the threat of Communism.

Dirksen told 250 Republican women at the fall conference of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Organizations that as a member of the McCarthy Subcommittee he has examined hearings records often.

"To the everlasting credit of Joe McCarthy I don't know of any one man who would stand the constant harassment—I wouldn't—of these people with interests in a different kind of America than what he wants," Dirksen said.

"To question after question these interests would refuse to answer on the grounds that it would incriminate them. That is frustrating business. It is easy for a temper to be touched off."

GABLE'S HEALTH EXCELLENT

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Clark Gable's doctor said Wednesday the actor is in "excellent health" and has left Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after one of his periodic checkups.

Dr. Rexford Kennamer said Gable was just having a checkup. He said the actor left the hospital a couple of days ago.

Equalizer Failure Blamed For Train Wreck At Lomax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday blamed the failure of an "equalizer" for the train derailment at Lomax, Ill., which killed four persons and injured 49.

The derailment occurred Aug. 22. The Chicago-to-Los Angeles Santa Fe Chief was then moving 89 miles an hour over a stretch where 90-mile speeds are permissible.

An equalizer is a part of the spring suspension assembly of the six-wheel trucks used on such trains. Its function is to keep the weight of the car evenly distributed among the wheels.

The ICC investigator said examination of the equipment showed a failure of the rear equalizer on the second car of the train.

ACTOR FACES KNIFE POSSESSION CHARGE

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Scotty Beckett, 24, faces a hearing today on a felony knife possession charge.

The onetime "Our Gang" comedy player surrendered Tuesday on a warrant issued last March 29. He said he had spent the intervening time in jail in Mexico on a bad check charge.

Beckett originally was charged here with robbery and possession of a dagger last Feb. 25 when the manager of a Westwood hotel reported theft of $137. The robbery charge was dismissed Tuesday.

Weds 14-Year-Old: Grandma Consents

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Alvey G. Whitmer, 38, has been cleared of charges he contributed to the delinquency of a minor by marrying a 14-year-old girl.

Magistrate Evan Crossley dismissed the charge against Whitmer after learning from Virginia authorities that the grandmother of his bride had authorized the marriage. Whitmer is married to Mattie Pearl Herrin of Arlington, Va. One of his six children by his previous marriage is a year older than his wife.

JAP SUB CHASING

TOKYO (AP)—Among the duties of Japan's new Navy will be submarine-chasing. Russia is reputed to have a big submarine fleet in the Pacific but a Safety Defense Force announcement didn't mention that. It said the navy will have three branches—guard, minesweeping and supply. But among the guard duties was submarine-chasing.

PRISCILLA'S POP — By AL VERMEER

SUSPECT
By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

Copyright 1954 by Hugh Lawrence Nelson. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Everyone seems to be lying without reason. Jim Dunn thinks after the sheriff arrives to investigate the death of Mrs. Angelica Jones, whose body was found in the cellar of a mountain lodge occupied by Jim's client, Jim, a private detective, and his wife had been posing as caretakers at the lodge while working for Mrs. Kit Carlson, who thinks she is suspected of what may be an unsolved murder on the West Coast. Miss Wister, Dunn's secretary, arrives unexpectedly and seems not to be telling the truth about her association with Angelica. And even the woman sheriff, Mrs. Toby Argyle, seems strangely preoccupied.

* * *

XV

"I THINK of it," Mrs. Gelstrap said, "A lady sheriff." She licked her lips, appeared happier. The aroma of good whiskey was heavy, but the cook appeared in full possession of her faculties.

"In a hurry to clean up, weren't you?" Agnes Argyle demanded.

"I'm always cleaning up," Mrs Gelstrap whined. "You ought to know how it is with housework. Let it get ahead of you and it's always ahead. And I'm not one to let things go. The missus likes things neat and clean. And I try to oblige, I'm sure."

"Your 'missus' is still sleeping?"

"She's had a little-bitty pill. Poor thing. When Mr. Dunn came breaking in with the news she was shocked. I had to give her a little pill."

"I didn't break in," Jim said. "The kitchen door was unlocked."

"Locked. I guess I ought to know. I locked it myself."

"You were plastered," Jim said bluntly. He turned to the sheriff. "The kitchen door was unlocked, and Mrs. Gelstrap was passed out at the kitchen table."

Mrs. Gelstrap objected. "Some people don't want other people to have any rest at all. Maybe I did have a little drinkee. What of it?"

Agnes Argyle asked, "Did you go to the basement at any time during the night?"

"I should say not. I wouldn't go down there after dark for all the money in the world."

"And your boss?"

"She slept right through. After I finally got her to take the pills. Poor thing, she didn't even stir until that Mr. Dunn came breaking in."

"But you two were alone here in the house?"

"Yes. He"—the ponderous head jerked in Jim's direction—"always goes away and leaves us about dark. Lets us shift for ourselves."

"I went to the caretaker's cabin," Jim said. "My wife and I stay there."

"Your wife? Where is she?"

"At the cabin," Jim said. "I told her to stay there."

Mrs. Argyle's expression said that such a command did not necessarily mean obedience. "I suppose you and your wife can prove neither of you left that house?"

"By each other's word, yes."

The sheriff turned again to Mrs. Gelstrap. "Are you the one who phoned?"

Dunn put in his explanation of that before the cook could make her denial. "My wife went to the house by the gate to phone. I tried the one over there, and it was out of order. Incidentally, my wife had to break in to use the phone."

* * *

THE sheriff walked to the phone and reached inside the recess to turn a small crank vigorously. She lifted the French-type phone from its base, held it in position. Her eyes met Jim Dunn's, and he saw growing anger

"Hello, Genie?" she said. "Yes. This is Agnes. Yes. Not right now. Tell me this. Has this phone been out of whack this morning? . . . Oh. . . . Oh, you're sure? . . . I see. . . . Yes. In a few minutes." She replaced the instrument, reached in automatically to turn the crank to announce the end of the talk, then faced Jim Dunn.

She did not give him a chance to explain. She was hopping mad, even paler with her rage. "I won't have it! I won't have you lying to me. What's all this about sending your wife to phone? What did you want in the gate cabin? What did you want so badly you rigged up that cock-and-bull story about the phone being out of order?" She did not give him a chance to answer those questions before she went on. "And another time you lied to me! You lied about not touching or moving anything in the basement. You lied, you bear me? Because Angelica had been moved! The elevator had been raised off her. She had been underneath it, and you pulled her out and put her where you wanted me to find her!"

* * *

JIM smiled grimly. Perhaps it was not unfair, only natural. Agnes Argyle listened to whole tissues of lies without batting an eyelash. Her questioning of the truth might be logical.

"I should have remembered about the phone," Jim said. "I forgot it was necessary to turn the little crank to call central. Maybe it was the French-type phone that threw me off. Anyway that happened. And I didn't touch anything in the basement. I did not pull the body out from under the elevator platform. I did not raise that platform."

"Somebody did," Sheriff Agnes said. She looked thoughtfully at Miss Wister and Mrs. Gelstrap. "Possibly somebody attempted to help Angelica Jones. There's no reason that shouldn't be admitted, is there?"

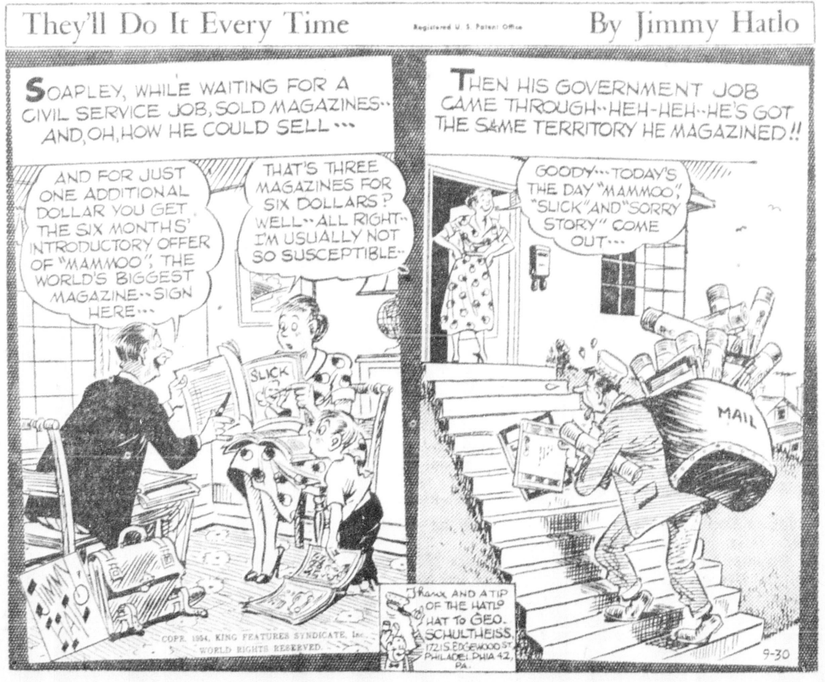

"You believe this death was an accident?"

"It could have been. Another accident. Probably if the body had not been moved I would have considered the death accidental."

Jim's mind fastened on her use of the word "another." So the Junction Creek sheriff knew of the California death!

Inaugural Flight To Be Made Thursday At Airport Ceremonies

Official ceremonies heralding the commencement of regularly scheduled air line service between Jacksonville and Chicago will be held at the Municipal Airport north of the city Thursday at 10:30 a. m. before a group of local citizens boards Byerly Airlines twin-engine Lockheed on an inaugural flight.

Byerly Airlines will start its regular service on the following day, October 1st, the morning northbound flight departing at 6:45 a.m. and arriving at Chicago's Midway airport, American Airlines gate, at 8:30 a.m.

W. H. Kurtz, chairman of the board of commissioners of the Jacksonville Airport Authority, is in charge of the program. Others participating will include Airport Commissioners Loren Moody, Marvin L. Schuetz, Merl Ingels and R. Karl Baker; Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland, County Judge Fenstermaker, William L. Fay, secretary and legal counsel for the Airport Authority; Ray Miller, president of the Jacksonville chamber of Commerce, Miss Thelma Bacon, operator of the Thrift Travel Service, R. M. Byerly, president of Byerly Airlines, and Jack Giels, local airport manager.

All interested citizens are invited to be on hand for the flight takeoff.

County Teachers In IEA Meeting At Springfield

Morgan county teachers attended a meeting of delegates and alternates to the 10 county South Central Division of the I.E.A. in Springfield Saturday.

Each county group elected its own officers, elected delegates to the annual meeting of the I.E.A. in Chicago in December, and considered matters concerning legislation, public relations, and teacher welfare.

Morgan county delegates elected the following officers for a two year term: County chairman, Miss Eloise Kennedy (I.S.D.); legislative chairman, Miss Ann R. Janes (J.H.S.); public relations chairman, Mrs. Hattie Monson, (Meredosia H.S.) and teacher welfare chairman, Miss Marjory Tubbs (Franklin H.S.)

The following were elected to attend the annual meeting of the Illinois Education Association in Chicago: Gerald Brown, Waverly; Miss Eloise Kennedy, Illinois School for the Deaf; Mrs. Hattie Monson, Meredosia high school; Miss Ann R. Janes, Jacksonville high school; Wilfrid E. Rice, county superintendent of schools.

Those in attendance at the meeting in Springfield were Mrs. Hattie Monson, Mrs. Mildred P. Gregory, Miss Vera Seaton, Miss Ann R. Janes, Robert Brand, Miss Frances Webb and Wilfrid E. Rice.

Unable to attend were Miss Marjory Tubbs, Miss Eloise Kennedy, Mrs. Mary C. Potts, delegates; and R. F. Espenschied, Mrs. Fred M. Thorn, Miss Elizabeth Caldwell, Mrs. Violet Auwarter, and Thomas Mussatto, alternates.

Ashland Farmer, Frank C. Devlin, Dies Suddenly

ASHLAND—Frank Charles Devlin, farmer living northwest of Ashland, died suddenly at 7:35 Wednesday morning at his residence.

Mr. Devlin was born on the farm where he resided all his life, the son of John E. and Mary N. Drain Devlin. His birthday was July 9, 1884. On Nov. 25, 1925 he was united in marriage with Miss Anna Unger in Springfield. She survives with the following children, Sister Jonette, OEF, St. John's hospital, Springfield and Mary Margaret and John William, both at home. One sister and three brothers survive, Mrs. Mahoney and Lee Devlin, both of Ashland; Harry Devlin of Jacksonville and William J. Devlin of Virginia. Two brothers, Arthur and John preceded Mr. Devlin in death.

The deceased was a member of St. Augustine's Catholic church in Ashland.

The body was taken to the Gainer Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Betty Mosley Returns Home After Accident

Miss Betty Mosley has returned to her home on South East street after being hospitalized due to neck injuries sustained in an automobile accident last Friday evening when the car in which she was riding was struck in the rear by a 1953 Mercury driven by Danny Joe Durkee of Chester, Ill.

Betty's sister, Glenna L. Twyford, also received several bruises about the body and a laceration on the left temple, but was able to return to her home after receiving emergency treatment at Passavant Hospital where one stitch was required to close the wound.

Christian Church Chi Rho Members Attend Retreat

The junior high school age group of the Chi Rho of Central Christian church recently went to Springfield on chartered bus to spend the day at a Retreat at Washington Park in that city.

There were three groups under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien, Joan Kitner and Marguerita Schoedsack. Each group pivoted from leader to leader, until complete plans were made for their fun, fellowship and service for the coming quarter. The goals are loyalty, stewardship with Our City Needs and Problems, as the underlying theme.

The points of achievement will be time and talents: service for parents in the home; service to the church, Sunday School program and service in the city in knowing and sharing with others and cooperating with plans of the council of Churchwomen for the Halloween project.

The young people who planned the listed proposals on the Retreat were Paul Reynolds, David Moore, Bill Boston, Carolyn Bunting, Cindy Kraushaar, Phyllis Metz, Linda Hamilton, Bob Poole, Bill Sanders, Ronnie Tendick, James Clayton, Linda Fanning, Rosemary Ferguson, Orville Hungerford, Donna Keppler, Jerry Lewis, William Massey, David Mitchell, Ina Mae Poole, Dorothy Rush, Ronnie Smith, Howard Timmons. Additional adult leaders of the young people are Opal Kehl, Mrs. Ray Sorrell and Jim Blakeman.

There are 48 active young teenagers who participate in Sunday School and the Sunday After Fellowship Hour.

Women Voters Hear Series Of Reports

The program presented at the September meeting of the League of Women Voters was a demonstration of the League Board members in session, with reports of various chairmen and the progress of committees.

Mrs. Ernest Hildner, president, called the board to order and asked Mrs. John Agger, International Trade chairman, for plans of her committee. Mrs. Agger said she would report at a later date. Mrs. Smith, Home Rule chairman, will conduct workshops so that members may learn what Home Rule means and how it applies to us and to Chicago. Chicago wants Home Rule and the question will be brought before the Illinois legislature when it convenes the first of the year.

Welfare chairman, Mrs. Winn, is planning a visit to the state hospital for members of the league and asked that those interested in visiting the hospital let her know.

The Publication chairman, Mrs. Venable, reminded the board that the League of Women Voters emphasizes political responsibility and is non-partisan; that its information is furnished by scholars of government at all levels, who look at problems from all angles, and have up-to-date information on the latest phases and events. Booklets and pamphlets, Mrs. Venable stressed, are for sale by the League at a nominal cost.

Dues At Minimum

Mrs. Rammelkamp, Finance chairman, said that dues of the League are kept at a minimum; that they may be within reach of everyone, and that some members contribute extra amounts and also that the League has many friends who wish to help with a donation because they believe in the purpose of the League to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government.

United Nations chairman, Mrs. Eddy, reported that revision of the United Nations charter will be up for discussion in the General Assembly. She mentioned that children will collect donations for the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund on Halloween when they go out visiting neighbors, instead of the usual "Trick or Treat" request.

Miss Raymaker, chairman of Budgetary and Fiscal matters, had no report for this meeting.

Mrs. Pigott presented the Morgan County League Handbook and offered it for sale after the session.

Mrs. Pierce asked for volunteers on sections and art work to help in publication of the new booklet, "This is Jacksonville."

Work On Reapportionment

Mrs. Eggenberger, chairman for Reapportionment, reported that a local committee with Mr. Frank Rantz as chairman is working with the state committee for reapportionment.

Voters Service chairman, Mrs. Kanatzar, reminded everyone that October 5 is Registration Day in the precincts for any voter who is not already registered, and one must be registered to be able to vote in the election November 2, which is the date the Blue Ballot for Reapportionment of the state will be presented to the people.

Mrs. Hildner announced a program conference to be held October 15 at the Congress Hotel in Chicago. Speakers will be Albert Jenner, Jr., past president of the Illinois Bar Association, who will speak on "Individual Liberties;" Candidates for U. S. Senator Paul H. Douglas and Joseph Meek; Jo Desha Lucas, assistant dean of University of Chicago Law School, whose subject will be "The Courthouse is Just Down the Street — Some Observations on Home Rule."

A chorus of five members of the League, Messrs. Green, Heiss, Mann, Blair, and Merriman presented a musical selection, "Sister, Reapportion the State," and a film, "Let Your Voice be Heard," was enjoyed by the entire audience.

Mrs. Rammelkamp served at the coffee table where refreshments had been prepared by Mrs. Pankhurst and Mrs. Cole. The centerpiece was an attractive design composed of Reapportionment leaflets.

October 25 will be a voters service meeting of the League. Board sessions, which are "open" to all members, are held the second Thursday of each month.

Mary E. Beadles Rites Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Beadles were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Williamson Funeral home with Rev. John W. Collins officiating.

Mrs. Francis Angel presented several organ selections, including "In the Garden" and "The Old Rugged Cross."

Caring for the flowers were Mrs. Minnie Hitt, Mrs. Elsie Middendorf and Mrs. Patricia Sims.

The casketbearers were Maurice and Lewis Sims, George Ashby, Robert Brune, Harold Sorrill and Clinton Patrick.

Burial was in Winchester cemetery.

Bike Winner

Richard Hildner is shown receiving a new Schwinn bike at the windup of the Kiwanis Club Kids Day bicycle parade and rodeo. The presentation was made by Lloyd Graunke, president of the club. Many other prizes including bicycle tires, lights, saddle bags and horns were given away.

Young Hildner is the son of Dean and Mrs. E. C. Hildner.

Salesman Admits Working Racket In Magazines

A magazine salesman who was placed under arrest Monday at Winchester by Sheriff George Leitze on suspicion of obtaining money under false pretenses has operated widely throughout the country, according to investigating officers. The prisoner, William Jenning Mercer, 22, of Wattsville, N. C., has been turned over to Springfield police by the Scott county sheriff.

Mercer is held in the Springfield city prison under $3,000 bond to face warrants served by Mrs. Gertrude Suter of that city, who told police Mercer sold her a magazine subscription from a non-existent company in Washington, D. C.

The defendant told Springfield officers he had worked for a Washington concern, and when he quit he had 1,000 subscription receipts and 20 credentials printed in his own name. He said he started selling the fake subscriptions in Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn., and Atlanta, Ga.

He then went to Davenport, Iowa, Moline and Rock Island, Ill., where he unloaded about 27 more of the subscriptions. From Rock Island, he told police, he went to Springfield where he began selling subscriptions to business houses. He confessed that he sold between 30 and 50 subscriptions which netted him about $125.

Mercer claimed that while he was selling the subscriptions a man, unidentified, offered him a job with another magazine company and he accepted the job. He said they traveled to Winchester last Saturday where he sold one of the fake subscriptions to a housewife.

The Winchester woman became suspicious, checked the subscription, and called the sheriff.

Putt, pastor of the Griggsville Episcopal Church, will officiate. Masonic rites will be held at the graveside.

Report Training Meeting To Boy Scout Troop 111

Boy Scout troop 111 had its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Congregational church. Knot tying games were held before the opening Scout ceremony.

The meeting opened with the presentation of the colors, Scout oath and the Scout laws.

A demonstration of rescuing and the treatment of a drowning person was given, followed by a discussion concerning the method. The neighborhood commissioner, Earl Floreth, was introduced.

Scouts Tom Beggs, Don Bonacorsi, Ernest Hildner, Bob Isaacs, Jim Robson, and Tom Wright, scoutmaster Robert Davis and troop committee man John Wright, attended a three day leadership training program at Springfield Boy Scout camp.

Senior patrol leader Ernest Hildner reported on the training program and how it would be fused into the present troop program.

The meeting closed with the scoutmaster's benediction. A short green bar patrol meeting was held after the closing.

Jonas T. Scott Of Jacksonville Dies Wednesday Night

Jonas T. Scott, 85, of 120 East Superior avenue, died at his home Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. following an extended illness for the last 21 months of which he was bedfast.

He was born Jan. 25, 1869, the eldest child of Ezra C. and Mary Jefferson Scott at the home of his grandfather Jonas Scott north of Rees Station. He grew up in his father's home south of Pisgah.

He was a member of the Durbin Methodist church. In 1902 he moved to Jacksonville where upon he joined the Centenary church.

Open West Morgan After Blacktopping

The blacktopping of West Morgan street between West street and Church street was completed Wednesday afternoon and opened to traffic.

The laying of the pavement was done by Stanky Brothers of Springfield. The material was mixed at the Winchester plant and hauled to this city by truck.

Stanky Brothers have had their plant in operation at Winchester for several months, having had a large contract for the retopping of U. S. Route 36 west of Winchester and in Pike county.

The materials were mixed at Winchester and heated to about 400 degrees temperature so that it was about 350 degrees when it reached Jacksonville.

The first coat was laid Monday but rain prevented work on Tuesday.

The laying of the top coating was resumed Wednesday morning and had practically been completed by noon. As soon as the pavement was laid and rolled it was immediately opened to traffic.

The resurfacing of West Morgan street will greatly improve traffic toward the Public Square. West Morgan street will continue to be a one way street from the Public Square to South West street and two-way traffic westward.

Under a city ordinance no parking will be permitted on either side of Morgan street between West street and Dunlap Court at any time. There will be no parking meters in this block city officials said.

The Caldwell Engineering company which has the contract for the paving of West Morgan and South Fayette streets had a large force of men completing the new concrete pavement which is being laid from Church to Prairie streets and West State street to Beecher avenue.

Wheat Farmers May Relinquish Acreage Quotas

Recently enacted legislation provides that any part of a 1955 wheat acreage allotment which isn't going to be planted may be voluntarily turned back to the county committee by the farmer. This return or release of allotment may be made only for 1955 or it may be released permanently. Such released allotment may then be reapportioned under specified conditions to other individual farms on which requests for increases are properly filed.

From such released acreage, it is essential that appropriate forms be completed. These forms may be obtained at the Morgan County A. S. C. office, American Bankers building, Jacksonville.

It is the decision of the State Committee that:

1. Oct. 1, 1954 is the closing date for farmers to release unused acreage allotment.

2. Oct. 15, 1954 is the final date for farmers desiring additional allotments and file Form MQ-30 with the county committee.

3. Oct. 15, 1954 is the final date for submitting new farm allotment increase recommendations to the state office.

4. Oct. 29, 1954 is the closing date for reapportioning released allotment to old farms.

Funeral Sunday For Pfc. Zachary

Funeral services for Private First Class Raymond H. Zachary, who died Tuesday at the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C., will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Williamson Funeral Home.

Pfc. Zachary was born northwest of Jacksonville Dec. 8, 1926, the son of Raymond H. and Cecile Tendick Zachary. He attended the Clark school in Sangamon county and the Pleasant Plains high school. For 11 years the family lived on the McLaughlin farm, southeast of Ashland.

The deceased had been in service since April of 1953 and been a patient at the government hospital since last March.

His father died in 1943. Surviving are his mother, of this city and one brother, Richard of Washington, D. C. Also his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tendick of Jacksonville and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Grace Nunes of Jacksonville.

He was a member of the Berea Christian church.

The Reverend R. E. May, pastor of Berea church, will conduct the services Sunday. Interment will be made in the Diamond Grove cemetery. The family requests in lieu of flowers to favor the Memorial Fund at the Berea Christian church.
